Peace With Germany Near

DRESEL TO SIGN NEW TREATY

Solons Confer With President and Approve Terms of Pact, Word

United Press Leased Wire
WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—The new treaty of peace with Germany, signing of which is expected in Berlin "very soon," is based in general on the Knox resolution, it was learned today from senators who have been in touch with the negotiations.

Germany by the treaty accepts virtually all the provisions of this resolution, according to authoritative information.

The treaty has been drafted completely and was submitted to a conference of the Republican members of the senate foreign relations committee at the White House this morning.

Outline Pact Terms
It was learned at the White House that the treaty will be a formal peace between the United States and Germany. It provides for a definite resumption of peace-time relations between the two countries, and it was indicated that at present, with the exception of some commercial understanding, no other treaty is contemplated.

Treaties with Austria and Hungary are being negotiated along with the German treaty and are of the same nature, it was learned today.

They may be signed before the German treaty, it was believed here. No official advice that the treaty is signed have reached here, however.

At the conference with the senators no change in the pact was suggested. The treaty is a comparatively short document, it was stated. Diplomatic relations, it was learned, will be re-established upon the exchange of ratification, as will all other peace-time relationships.

Senator Johnson Absent
Members of the foreign relations committee except Johnson and Borah were present. Johnson is out of the city, and while Borah is here, no explanation for his absence from the White House conference was forthcoming.

As drawn the pact was said to have met the approval of the senators. It was indicated that the treaty would be signed either today or tomorrow by E. Loring Dresel, American commissioner, acting under direct authority of the president.

The final act before the signature was understood to be the conference of the president and Secretary of State Hughes with the senators this morning.

Upon being assured that the new pact in general met the approval of the senators, it was understood that the order had gone to Dresel to sign in behalf of the United States.

Full Text Ready
The full text of the treaty will be submitted to the full membership of the senate foreign relations committee at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

The text of the treaty will be made public by the state department after signature simultaneously with its release.

Harding did not ask that the congress remain in session to consider the treaty because it was desired the measure come before the German Reichstag about the same time, September 21 is the date for the Reichstag to convene.

SUSPECT FOUL PLAY AS DEAD MAN FOUND
PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 24.—The body of an unidentified man still warm and limp, was found by passersby in a clump of trees between the Troutdale depot and the Sandy river near here today.

The man, whose pockets and suitcase had been rifled, had evidently been beaten to death with a club or other instrument a short time before the body was found.

TAX RATE IS RAISED
FULLERTON, Aug. 24.—Next year's budget was worked out by the city council, last night. The approximate total is $194,600, it was announced at the office of the city clerk, today. The tax rate is $1.10 ten cents higher than last year, and fifteen cents higher than two years

Court Lifts Cellar Doors; Rules Wine Theft No Crime

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 24.—It's open season for open cellars. Your wine isn't your wine. But the law can't stop you from taking your neighbor's wine.

All that and more, declares the third district court of appeals, in a decision in the case of the people versus Annet Spencer, Mendocino county. Spencer was accused of having stolen a quantity of wine from Lorenzo Albonzo, near Covelo. He said there wasn't enough evidence against him. The superior court dismissed his case, then the appeal was made.

Here's what Justice E. C. Hart, Finnen and Burnett agreed upon: "It is obvious that there cannot be under the law an ownership of intoxicating liquors manufactured since the enactment of the Volstead act, and manifestly if there cannot be an ownership of such liquors, they cannot be, in legal contemplation, property. The charge of larceny cannot be predicated on the act of taking intoxicating liquors by one from the possession of another."

In closing the court advises that the district attorney might describe the bottles in which the wine was stored and thus have come within the law which recognizes a bottle as property but not the contents if it happens to be wine.

LYNCH THREATS ARE HURLED AS NEGROES ACCUSED BY WOMAN

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 24.—Alleged to have been captured, and held prisoner for nearly twelve hours by a dozen burly negroes, Mrs. Myrtle White is in the receiving hospital today suffering from complete collapse and serious injuries.

She is a white woman, and the mother of two small children. Mrs. White was found unconscious on Santa Fe avenue early today by S. McLeary, a hardware salesman. He rushed her to the receiving hospital. When she was revived she told a story of atrocities.

"I think I shall go mad," Mrs. White told Detectives Allen and Powers from her cot at the hospital today.

"I came in yesterday morning from San Pedro hunting work, and God knows I needed it badly or I should never have gone down into that district searching for it."

She entered a cafe at Twenty-sixth street and Santa Fe avenue seeking work as a waitress, she said, at about 5 p. m., yesterday.

There, according to her story, she was immediately seized by several negroes, and dragged into a darkened back room.

Despite her pleas and prayers, she says she was held prisoner throughout the night.

Led out blindfolded, she was started for a street car in company with one of the negroes who had held her prisoner. On the way to the car, she said she screamed for help, and he struck her down, seized her purse which contained her slender savings for the support of her two small children and fled. She fainted, and did not revive until she was taken to the emergency hospital.

Mrs. White is a frail, emaciated little woman, 27 years of age.

All available detectives and police have been rushed to the Santa Fe avenue negro section, to prevent threatened lynchings and rioting.

An attempt to burn the cafe where the attack is alleged to have taken place, and threats to "get" the negro proprietors have been openly made, according to telephone reports from the district.

America Victor In Clash Over Boundary Line

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—The Harding administration chalked up a clean diplomatic victory today with receipt of final word from the Republic of Panama that she will yield up disputed territory to Costa Rica without further delay.

PANAMA, Aug. 24.—An order from the government here to Panama authorities at Cota, ordering them to evacuate completely before the arrival of Costa Rican officials, was on its way to the disputed province today.

BEWARE OF FOREIGN LOANS, SAYS HOOVER

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—The government is considering the issuance of a warning to investors throughout the country against "blue sky" foreign loans, Secretary of Commerce Hoover said in a statement.

Discussing the advertised floating by a New York bond house of a one billion mark loan for the benefit of a Central European city, Secretary Hoover declared that the loan in question and many similar ones now being offered to American investors were nothing better than "blue sky" gambles.

The postmaster general has the case under advisement, it was said, and if the postal laws are not found to furnish a protection to investors, a warning might be given general circulation by the government.

MOORISH TRIBESMEN REPULSED BY SPANISH

MELILLA, Morocco, Aug. 24.—Moorish tribesmen are increasing their attacks upon the outer zone of the Spanish defenses of this city, but have been repulsed with losses. The enemy is using cannon in operations against the Spanish trenches. Officers of the Spanish army have begun preparations for a punitive expedition against the tribesmen.

EIGHT MISSING AS KIDNAPINGS ARE RESUMED IN IRELAND

BELFAST, Aug. 24.—Six men were mysteriously kidnaped early today by masked men who woke them at their homes, ordered them to dress and whisked them away in automobiles, leaving no clues.

CORK, Aug. 24.—Two policemen were kidnaped from the suburb of Bandon here today. Disguised men attacked the constables while they were on duty and carried them off in automobiles.

LONDON, Aug. 24.—Sinn Fein's reply to the British peace offer doesn't accept the proposals but "doesn't bang the door to peace," the Evening News' Dublin correspondent wired this afternoon.

Negotiations, he reported, are largely a matter of "logic chopping."

BY CLYDE C. BEALS
United Press Staff Correspondent
DUBLIN, Aug. 24.—The character of the Sinn Fein's reply to the British government's peace offer will leave the door open for further negotiations.

The United Press correspondent was reliably informed today that the reply, which has been determined upon, while not accepting the terms, will not mean immediate resumption of hostilities.

Sinn Fein's inner circle decided upon its answer and submitted it to the Dail Eireann, for its approval. Announcement of the Sinn Fein reply is expected tomorrow.

Definite claims had not been made but a reply that would assure continuation of the truce had been decided upon.

THE TENT IS RETURNED
FULLERTON, Aug. 24.—Although failing to claim the reward of $50 offered by R. E. Croffman of Anaheim, the large fumigating tent stolen from an orange orchard on San Kraemer's property at Placentia, was returned supposedly by the man who took it, it was learned today.

The tent was stolen Monday night, Croffman reported and he immediately offered the reward.

TO REPAIR TRAILS
SAN BERNARDINO, Aug. 24.—San Bernardino county plans to repair the Old Trails highway westward from the Colorado river bridge, according to the county highway commissioner. The worst part of the road is west of Ludlow and work will begin here at once, it is said.

Figures Give Idea of Size of Dirigible In England Disaster

Following are the chief measurements of the ZR-2 as announced by the navy department:

The chief measurements of the ZR-2 were:
Length, 695 feet.
Diameter, 85 feet, four inches.
Capacity, 2,700,000 cubic feet.
Lifting power, 83 tons.
Total horsepower, 2100.
Engines, six of 350 horsepower each.

Cruising speed, 60 miles per hour. Cruising range, 6,000 miles. The machine was capable of reaching a height of 25,000 feet. She had a control system rivaling that of big ocean liners. The skipper, in his cabin, could communicate instantly with any part of the ship. Under his immediate control were the ballast tanks, gasoline supplies, steering gear and the bombing levers.

TWO PERISH AS TRAIN PLUNGES OFF OF BRIDGE

Engineer and California Passenger Are Killed In Wreck On Rio Grande Railroad.

GRAND JUNCTION, Colo., Aug. 24.—Two persons are known to be dead in the wreck of a Rio Grande Western passenger train near here early today.

They are Douglas Armstrong, engineer, Grand Junction and William Redfern, La Havre, Cal., a passenger.

Several injured passengers were being brought to Grand Junction.

The heroism of Stanley Clark and Norman Munson, students of the University of California, who were beating their way on the tender of the locomotive, saved the lives of William Linkins, fireman, and Robert Hewitt, mail clerk.

The two students, who were uninjured when the train plunged into the creek, rescued Linkins from the wreckage and carried Hewitt to safety from the mail car.

Among the injured are:
John A. Peterson, Portland, Ore., head cut.

Mr. and Mrs. James Hutchinson, Birmingham, Wash., cuts and bruises.

G. B. Healey, San Francisco, internal injuries.

"30" BULLETINS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—The Japanese acceptance to the American disarmament invitation was received at the state department today. The note of acceptance covered both the limitation of armament and Far Eastern questions.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—President Harding signed the Capper-Tincher anti-grain gambling bill today.

BOSTON, Aug. 24.—William Johnston and Willis Davis, playing in the tournament for the national doubles tennis championship at Longwood Cricket Club, defeated H. B. Hutchinson and G. W. Sanders this afternoon, 6-4, 6-2, 7-5.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 24.—Two were killed when a New York Central train hit an automobile near Willoughby late today. Two others will die of injuries and one is severely hurt, it was reported.

AUTO ACCIDENT IS FATAL TO SAILOR

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 24.—Adam Driver, a coxswain aboard the U. S. S. Nevada, died at the naval hospital today from injuries received in an auto accident at East San Diego last night.

Driver was in a machine which attempted to pass another car when the wheels became locked and the two automobiles spilled together.

Three other sailors escaped uninjured. The machines were wrecked.

CHINESE REBEL ARMY LAUNCHES NEW DRIVE

CHANGHAI, China, Aug. 24.—General Wu Pei Fu, commanding a large force of Chinese revolutionary troops is launching his entire army against the Southern Chinese force at Yochow, according to word reaching here.

Wu Pei Fu, who is striving to set up a new Chinese government uniting all factions, predicts he will win a victory within two weeks.

HUGE DIRIGIBLE EXPLODES WHILE ON TEST FLIGHT

(Bulletin)
HULL, England, Aug. 24.—(9:20 P. M.)—Norman Walker of Commerce, Texas, was the only American survivor of the ZR-2 disaster, according to reports up to this hour. Walker jumped from the wreck as it hit the water. He was picked up by a tug—unhurt.

By CHARLES M. McCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent
HULL, England, Aug. 24.—America's giant dirigible, the ZR-2, carrying more than fifty American and British flyers, exploded and fell flaming into the River Humber at 5:45 o'clock this afternoon.

So far as is known only two men escaped. They floated free of the doomed air cruiser in parachutes. All the rest are believed to have been hurled to death.

The first identified victim of the disaster was Ensign Marcus A. Easterly of the United States navy. His body, badly burned, was conveyed to the morgue here.

At 8 o'clock tonight, it was stated that 49 men were believed to have been aboard the ZR-2. Of these 34 were British and 15 Americans. The latter included six officers.

The ZR-2 had just returned from a trial trip which lasted all day yesterday and last night, during which she cruised over a great part of England and was blown some distance off her course by a gale over the North Sea. The British airmen put the dirigible, purchased by the United States from England through her paces preliminary to turning her over to the American crew for a flight to Lake Hurst, N. J.

At 6:20 p. m., two bodies had been recovered. The water at the scene was dotted with small boats searching for more.

The wreckage fell over the Victoria pier, burning fragments dropping from it.

Dense volumes of blue smoke and flames streamed hundreds of feet above the surface of the river.

Escape In Parachutes
Four men were seen descending in parachutes.

Three were clinging to one of the parachutes as it swooped toward the water.

The explosion was terrific. Among the reported saved was Captain Wann, the navy commander of the airship. Wann was unhurt.

His skillful handling of the giant craft at the moment of the explosion prevented it from falling in the center of the town thus averting a more serious disaster.

Only five survivors have been listed at 9:30 p. m. Of these four were British and one American. All others on the airship are believed dead.

Other survivors are:
Captain Wann, British commander of the airship, and Ernest Davis, who is in the hospital.

Lieutenant Charles Little, one of the Americans, died at the infirmary.

Two of the dead in the morgue here are Lieutenant Marcus Easterly of Youngstown, Ohio, or Westerly, R. I., radio officer, and Lieutenant Montague of the British forces.

A British civilian, Batterman, and Corporal Potter of the British army, jumped from the tail of the falling dirigible and were saved. At the time of filing this dispatch they were at a police station calmly drinking tea.

Report Six Survivors
At 7:30 p. m. it was reported that there were six survivors, but that two of them were seriously injured.

At 4:30 p. m. today the huge ship appeared over Howden and signalled that before landing she would make a speed trial. The big crowd waiting on the landing field, around the hangar, cheered and waved as the airship started northward toward Hull.

She swung through the air lanes above the city and above the mouth of the Humber at steadily increasing speed. Watchers below thought all was going well. The doomed men aboard, in her control cabins and on the narrow runways between the motors, must have had a moment's warning of the disaster, it is believed. Otherwise, none would have been able to get clear for the parachute jump.

Watchers See Flash
Just as the ZR-2 came to a halt in a great curve high over the house-tops of Hull, near the mouth of the river, where it is very wide and deep, there was a flash and a great burst of smoke and flame.

While the horrified watchers gazed up at the tragedy in the sky, they heard the rumble of the distant explosion. Then the great steel framework doubled and the bag of the great ship broke.

Slowly at first, and then with ever-increasing speed, she plunged downward. Behind her floated a pall of smoke.

She struck the surface of the Humber with a terrific upheaval of foaming water.

Immediately dozens of small boats put out from the wharves and from vessels moored nearby, the seamen pulling with all their strength to be the first at the spot where the ZR-2 had sunk and to search for possible survivors.

Balloon Blast Shock Is Felt 50 Miles Away

Pedestrians Are Swept Off Feet By Explosion Dispatch to Navy Department Declares.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—The first dispatch to arrive at the navy department news bureau giving details of the ZR-2 disaster was filed at London at 7:02, as follows:

"ZR-2 fell in River Humber as result of hydrogen explosion, resulting in serious damage. Cause unknown at present. Complete details follow."

This message came from one of the American officers sent to London to help fly the giant ship back to the United States.

A second cable gave the following details:

"The ZR-2 was wrecked with a heavy loss of life this afternoon over the Yorkshire coast."

"Following two terrible explosions, the airship fell in flames into the Humber river. There were twenty-one Americans on board."

"The explosion took place as the balloon was passing over Hull, and so terrible was the concussion that many pedestrians in the street were swept off their feet. The shock from the detonation was felt fifty miles distant. At 7:30 tonight it was reported there were only six survivors from the ZR-2."

"The airship was flying at a great height when the disaster overtook her. She was seen to emerge from the clouds and as the explosion occurred broke in two parts; one part rose in the air and fell in the Humber. The descent of the falling half was unaccountably slow, considering the weight of the material."

Work on a sister ship to the ZR-2, known as the ZR-1, at Lakehurst, N. J., probably will be stopped pending investigation of the disaster it was believed at the navy department.

Another cable to the navy department stated that Harry Bayman and Walter Potter, two American enlisted men, escaped unhurt. The cable confirmed the death of Lieutenant Little, Massachusetts.

Two unidentified bodies have been recovered from the river, it said.

Secretary Denby sent the following message of condolence to the British air ministry and naval department.

"The navy department of the United States extends to the air ministry and British navy deepest sympathy in the appalling disaster to the ZR-2. It hopes our earlier reports will prove exaggerated as to loss of life."

SUGAR PRICES DROP IN SAN DIEGO WAR

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 24.—A "sugar war" rages between wholesale jobbers here today and a number of dealers have reduced the price of sugar $1 a hundredweight with reductions in sight.

The "sugar war" began when a local jobber sold a carload of sugar to a cut rate store, which in turn reduced its prices to below the wholesale list.

Immediately another large wholesale concern made a big slash in sugar, which is now selling below replacement figures.

Sugar retails today at $6.70 a hundredweight for cane and $6.40 for beet.

ACCEPT WAGE CUT
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 24.—People who eat saw a ray of hope today. Cooks, waiters and musicians employed in San Francisco cafes accepted pay reductions ranging from 7 1/2 to 8 1/3 per cent.

70 Men Sent to England to Fly Balloon to U. S.

Navy Department Gives Out List of Officers and Enlisted Men In Balloon Detachment.

United Press Leased Wire
WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—Approximately 70 officers and men were sent by the navy department to England to work on the ship, part of the detachment to act as the crew to fly the ZR-2 over the ocean to Lake Hurst, N. J.

Officers and men in the detachment are:

Commander L. H. Maxfield, Washington, D. C.; Lieutenant Commander V. N. Bieg, Bryn Mawr, Pa.; Lieutenant R. G. Penoyer, 2444 Carlton street, Berkeley, Cal.; Lieutenant C. G. Little, Newbury, Mass.; Lieutenant T. B. Hull, 1961 Bellare street, Denver; Lieutenant A. R. Houghton, Lieutenant W. R. Taylor, Lieutenant J. H. Kyger, Lieutenant Commander E. W. Coll, Lieutenant F. H. Culbert, Lieutenant W. H. Hoyt, Lieutenant M. H. Easterly, Ensign M. W. Mundy and Ensign J. H. Hykes.

Lieutenant J. B. Anderson, meteorological officer.

At Denby's office it was said that five or six American officers and 15 or 20 enlisted men constituted the American crew on the last flight.

The following enlisted men were in the contingent:

C. I. Aller, A. E. Carlson, M. Christensen, R. M. Coons, J. W. Cullinan, A. B. Galatin, J. T. Hancock, J. J. Harrigan, W. Julius, M. Lay, H. H. Claire, A. D. Pettit, W. A. Russell, L. T. Stevens, W. FINANCE BODY READY TO BACK PRUNE MEN

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—The War Finance corporation today announced that negotiations now are nearly complete for loans to finance agricultural products for export as follows:

California Prune and Apricot Growers, Inc., 25,000,000 pounds of prunes.

Wheat—Washington Wheat Growers association, 8,000,000 bushels; Idaho Wheat Growers association, 2,000,000 bushels; Oregon Co-Operative Wheat Growers association, 2,000,000 bushels and Montana Wheat Growers association 1,500,000 bushels.

DEMAND REMOVAL OF BEACH POLICE HEAD

LONG BEACH, Aug. 24.—Removal of acting Chief of Police Ben W. McClarendon is demanded in a complaint filed with the civil service commission here today. Charges include gross negligence, insubordination, promotion of strife, discontent and disobedience and the commission of disgraceful criminal acts or conduct by aiding, abetting, condoning and allowing certain thefts of property, under his control and in connection with alleged assaults upon a prisoner in his custody are contained in the complaint.

GERMANS AT SEA ON PEACE WITH AMERICA

BERLIN, Aug. 24.—The German newspapers continue wholly uninformed with respect to the progress of the peace negotiations between the United States and Germany. In the absence of authenticated information from official sources they continue to give prominence to reports gathered from the newspapers of London as to the nature of the forthcoming treaty.

Notwithstanding the secretiveness maintained, it is known that the parleys have virtually been concluded and that the treaty now only awaits the final approval of Secretary of State Hughes. Contrary to rumors emanating from Washington, no commercial treaty will precede the formal peace pact. The latter, while general in outline, nevertheless will be a formal treaty which will provide for the immediate re-establishment of normal diplomatic missions and consular organizations.

UCHIDA HEADS JAP DISARMAMENT ENVOYS

HONOLULU, T. H., Aug. 24.—Foreign Minister Uchida will head the Japanese delegation to the disarmament conference, according to authoritative sources, says a Tokio dispatch to the Shimpo, a Japanese-language newspaper here.

50 PERISH WHEN BIG BALLOON EXPLODES

At first it was feared that not one man had escaped. It was believed that all had perished, either by the flames during the long fall or by drowning after the ship hurtled into the Humber.

Captain Maxfield of the United States navy was on board. The remainder of the crew was composed of thirty-one British air service men who were instructing the Americans in the handling of the gas bag.

Captain Maxfield had not yet officially taken over the ship which was technically in charge of Captain Wann of the British air force until the tests had been completed. Other American officers on board included:

Lieutenants Little, Easterday, Hoyt, Bieg and Coil. The other Americans were picked mechanics.

Noted Flyer Aboard

Major Pritchard, one of the British officers, understood to be on board the ZR-2, was the first man to land on American soil from a trans-Atlantic airship. He dropped in a parachute from the R-34 as she circled over Roosevelt field, Long Island, on her arrival from England.

The American officers who had been scheduled to command the ZR-2 on her flight were:

Commander L. H. Maxfield, St. Paul; Lieutenant Commander E. W. Coll, Tucson, Ariz.; Lieutenant N. Bieg, Byrn Mawr, Pa.; O. G. Pennoyer, Berkeley, Cal.; Lieutenant H. W. Hoyt, Lieutenant J. B. Lawrence, Lieutenant M. H. Easterday, Lieutenant J. B. Anderson, Chief Machinist S. S. Halliburton, Lieutenant C. A. Tinker.

The Observer, for several days previous to the disaster, had been hinting that all was not well with the ZR-2.

It stated that girders had been bent and lattice work buckled under the strain.

Hint Engine Trouble

The ship's engines were also said to be giving considerable trouble. These defects, according to the Observer, had been kept secret for several weeks, but it was feared they would be prevented from attempting the Atlantic voyage this year because of these difficulties.

In discussing the practicability of giant airships with the United Press at the time of the flight to America of the British R-34, General Maitland told the United Press of the extraordinary precautions taken to guard against explosions. No man was permitted to board the ship unless he wore rubber-soled shoes to prevent the possibility of a spark caused by the contact of leather or nails with the narrow wooden floor of the bag and the gondolas.

The last successful flight of the ZR-2, made July 17, occupied nine hours. On that voyage the vessel was alleged to have shown weaknesses.

In Air All Night

On that flight the big ship rose from her mooring mast at Bedford at 7:30 in the evening. The vessel headed for London, but turned back encountering a thunder storm. She passed over the air station at Howden shortly before midnight, but did not descend.

Some of the transverse beams about midships were said to have buckled a trifle, but a quick examination showed the damage was not sufficient to cause abandonment of the flight.

The vessel flew back to Bedford and landed there shortly before 4:30 a. m. The slightly damaged beams were said to have been repaired before the final flight was made.

There had been vague rumors that the airship was not behaving in an altogether satisfactory manner and that there were some defects in her fabric.

These reports were denied. The trial trip, on which the explosion occurred was begun after the reports had been circulated.

Report Frame Weak

It was said that some of the metal framework was weakened and that she "humped" in the middle. It was said also that some reinforcements had to be made because of that defect.

The ZR-2 performed beautifully today, so far as could be ascertained from the ground. A few messages sent out from the huge cabin indicated that the crew was satisfied. General Maitland, believed to have been on board, was England's foremost air officer. He left his regiment, the First Essex, in 1909 to start the British flying squadron composed of five Maurice Farman airplanes.

In 1910 he flew on a balloon trip in company with another officer and was blown out of his course, landing in Russia.

HARBROUGH'S WIFE NOT YET ARRIVED

Although she was expected to arrive here late yesterday afternoon to take charge of her husband, who has suffered a loss of memory, Mrs. W. L. Harbrough, of San Jose, had not reached this city at noon today and the authorities have received no word of her present whereabouts.

Harbrough was brought to the county jail last Friday night after being picked up at Oceanside by a state parole officer. The aphasia victim did not know his own name. He was identified Saturday night by E. E. Stevens of Long Beach.

Stevens immediately communicated with Mrs. Harbrough at San Jose and she wrote him that she would start at once by auto for Santa Ana. The authorities believe that she has been delayed by trouble with her machine.

Harbrough went to Long Beach about a month ago. He looked up Stevens, who is proprietor of the Missouri Garage, and rented parking space for his automobile with the understanding that he was to start a transfer business.

Stevens said today that he had appeared soon after attending to the preliminary affairs of his business. He had no idea where the man had gone until he read a story of the aphasia victim in a newspaper.

The description of the aphasia victim with that of the man who had rented parking space and Stevens made a trip to this city to see him. He identified Harbrough as a former San Jose grocer.

Stevens said today that he had written the state board of health to ascertain why Harbrough was not taken care of at the county hospital instead of the county jail.

The aphasia victim was taken first to the hospital but because of crowded conditions there he was returned to the county jail. Dr. H. E. Zaiser said today that the only reason the man was not accepted was because it was practically impossible to make room for him.

"We have but four cells for mental cases," said Dr. Zaiser, "and at the time the man was brought to the hospital we had all of them filled. In other words we had six mental patients on hand and only four cells." Dr. Zaiser said that the man would be accepted at the hospital just as soon as he could possibly be cared for. The man has been given every possible attention at the jail.

PROGRAM OF LABOR DAY ANNOUNCED

THOSE WHO STAY WITH FIGHT WILL WIN

"Nineteen twenty-one will reward fighters."

This was the big thought in a highly entertaining and interesting address given Santa Ana Kiwanians today by C. S. Hutson, of the C. S. Hutson Lithograph company, of Los Angeles, at the regular meeting of the Santa Ana club.

Hutson was in the east May, June and July, making a tour for the purpose of getting first hand information as to conditions for guiding him in his business activities in Los Angeles.

His observations were boiled down to brief expression for passing information to others. His deductions evidenced him to be a keen business man and conversant with big business affairs.

He quoted David Starr Jordan as saying that "the world stands aside for the man who knows where he is going." To find out where he was going Hutson went east.

He declared that business men should study — should devote more time and study to their business and conditions generally than they are now giving if they would be successful in their endeavors.

"The individual or institution cannot succeed by himself or itself," he declared. "The individual should mingle with others engaged in the same line of business and get their viewpoints of business operation. Plans for the future should be made and every step in advancement should be made along the plans developed. In the last analysis it is the ability we use and not the ability we possess that brings success."

He expressed the belief that 1922 would be a good business year.

Hugh Lowe was the lucky winner of today's attendance prize and will be chairman of next week's luncheon.

Every member present today subscribed to a fund for taking care of a crippled Orange county child now in a Los Angeles institution and absent members will be given opportunity during the week to contribute to the fund. The club will raise $120.

OBSERVANCE OF ANNIVERSARY PLANNED

HALIFAX, Nova Scotia, Aug. 24.—Nova Scotians will celebrate, August 31, the three hundredth anniversary of the issue of the charter of New Scotland (now Nova Scotia) by King James I in 1621, and will unveil a tablet commemorating that event in the historic town which was sixteen years old when the Pilgrims landed on Plymouth Rock.

Two other tablets will be unveiled at the same time, one commemorating the two hundredth anniversary of the establishment and sitting of the first court administering English common law within what is now known as the Dominion of Canada, and the other in honor of Thomas Chandler Haliburton, an eminent Nova Scotia statesman, jurist and humorist, who, as the creator of "Sam Slick," the Yankee clock maker, won fame as the father of American humor. Judge Haliburton was admitted to the bar a century ago, and his book, "The Clockmaker, or Sayings and Doings of Sam Slick of Slickville," appeared in 1837.

The Annapolis valley is the oldest settled section of Northern North America, and as the steamer crosses the Bay of Fundy and sights the great break in North Mountain, Digby Gut, through which the high tide of the bay rushes into Annapolis Basin, a person gifted with imagination can turn the clock back more than three centuries to the June day in 1604 when the Sieur de Monts and Samuel de Champlain first sighted it and wondered whether it led — to China, perhaps, for all the French explorers of that time were looking for a westward passage to that country. Their three-masted ship with square mainsail and double-decked sternhouse was flying the royal flag of France, and when they saw the mysterious, low-lying wall they slipped through on the rushing tide and found a vast, tranquil inland sea hidden from prying eyes in the outer bay by the long barrier formed by North Mountain.

WOMEN WHO OVERWORK

"Man may work from sun to sun, but woman's work is never done." In order to keep the home neat and attractive, the children well dressed and tidy, women continually overdo and suffer in silence, drifting along from bad to worse, knowing full well that they need help to overcome the pains and aches which daily make life a burden. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a medicine with specific value which overcomes many of the worst forms of female complaints, as the letters constantly being published in this paper will prove.—Adv.

LARGE WHEAT CROP DESTROYED BY PESTS

If all the wheat now destroyed annually by pests could be saved and made into flour the United States Department of Agriculture says it would add approximately 29,463,700 barrels to the yearly output of the Nation. The annual production of wheat in this country for the four-year period 1916 to 1919, inclusive, was 783,849,500 bushels. The annual loss from disease during this period was 147,318,500 bushels.

While it is not possible entirely to eliminate wheat diseases, it is possible to reduce the toll much below

what it has been in recent years, says the department. One branch of the work of the office of cereal investigations in the Bureau of Plant Industry is to work out the preventive and control measures for the diseases of all cereal crops. Another branch of the work of this office, which is of equal importance in increasing production of cereal crops, is the development and introduction of superior varieties of grain which produce higher yields in localities where they are especially well adapted, or which have disease-resistant qualities. This work is carried on in co-operation with the various State experiment stations, and in many cases has made profitable farming possible in sections in which agriculture was hazardous previous to the introduction of new crops or varieties particularly well suited to local conditions.

BARES SWINDLE RING PLOT TO WRECK BANK

United Press Leased Wire
CHICAGO, Aug. 24.—Big business was blamed for the prosecution of the Charles W. French alleged "swindle trust," by J. H. Leet, Cleveland, associate of French. Leet, wealthy son of a banker, arrested after authorities uncovered the alleged $20,000,000 bank wrecking game, told officials the "steel trust" feared French's operations to corner the iron ore output of the West. "Our arrest is the answer of big business," Leet said.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Aug. 24.—Federal officials here today seized $16,000,000 in securities belonging to Charles W. French. They had been deposited in safety boxes of a local bank. The authorities were led to the hiding place by one of the men connected with the band of alleged swindlers.

CHICAGO, Aug. 24.—Spurious stock transactions and business promotion schemes totalling $20,000,000 were traced today to the gang alleged to have been headed by Charles W. French.

Federal investigators made this announcement after spending the night going over records seized and alleged confessions made by three of those arrested in connection with the gang's work.

Investigators traced operations of the gang through frenzied schemes of banking, check kiting, broken fortunes and bankruptcies.

New evidence showed at least seventeen companies involved in the speculations.

Aim To Wreck Bank
The gang specialized in bank wrecking, according to evidence federal agents said they had uncovered. At the time the gang's operations were exposed, they were on the verge of completing a deal to buy a bank in Milwaukee for $800,000.

According to the plan of operation, certified checks on a Washington, D. C., bank for $500,000 would be given for the first payment for the Milwaukee institution. As soon as the gang obtained control of the bank, they would issue $1,000,000 certificates of deposit, on which money would be borrowed in Chicago and rushed to Washington to cover the checks. With the bank in their hands and dummy officials and directors, they could proceed as they desired.

Bares Additional Plots
Evidence that four other banks were wrecked in this manner by the gang was obtained by the investigators, and negotiations to obtain control of additional financial institutions were exposed.

Operations of the gang in the southwest through the Pacific Trust company of Independence, Mo., and the Guarantee Securities company of Kansas City were uncovered. In addition to working with banks, a string of fake manufacturing concerns, organized out of thin air or from some concern on its last business legs, was used by the "swindle trust." Fraudulent securities would be issued on these companies and sold wherever there was a market.

Accuses French
The alleged confession of Alva Harshman, who was secretary to French, was obtained by District Attorney Clinkin, bit by bit, after hours of questioning. He finally told the whole story mixed with a tirade against French.

"I've been the goat for French long enough," he said. "Everything went one way, into French's pockets. They had no outlet."

PRISONER SLAIN IN L. A. ESCAPE PLOT

United Press Leased Wire
LOS ANGELES, Aug. 24.—Horace Box, Long Beach fireman, shot to death by Deputy Sheriff James Cronin as he was attempting to escape from the Los Angeles county jail, where he was held on charges of assault and grand larceny, was arrested here July 11 after officers had conducted a state-wide search for him.

Box, charged with attacking Miss Lucille Humphries, was identified by her as her assailant. The grand larceny charge was based on the alleged theft of an automobile which Box was driving at the time of the attack on Miss Humphries.

Horace Box, Long Beach fireman, shot to death today as he was attempting to escape from the Los Angeles county jail, was held in the Orange county jail a short time before being transferred to Los Angeles. It was first alleged that the crime with which Box was charged had been committed in Orange county near Seal Beach. After his arrest it developed the alleged crime took place in Los Angeles county and Box was turned over to Los Angeles county authorities.

Box was 22 years of age.

COMMITTEE LAYING PLANS FOR BATTLE AGAINST CIGARETTE

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 24.—With the national convention of the Women's Christian Temperance Union closed after a week's session, the national executive committee of the convention met today to lay plans for carrying out policies the convention adopted.

A nation-wide campaign in favor of disarmament, further blows at the liquor traffic and an educational campaign against cigarettes—particularly feminine brand—were the main questions before the convention.

ACCUSES LEGION AS SOCIALIST IS SEIZED

United Press Leased Wire
MASON CITY, Iowa, Aug. 24.—Speaking before 2000 people at a park here last night, Mrs. Ida Crouch Hazlett, New York Socialist campaigner, was yanked from her speaking platform in the middle of a speech on Eugene Debs, taken ten miles into the country in an automobile and unceremoniously "dumped out" in the road.

"I was kidnapped by the American Legion," Mrs. Hazlett told the United Press today.

Suspect Ku Klux Klan
Members of the kidnapping party were said to have declared that they "preferred to be known as the Ku Klux Klan." Rumors of the formation of an Iowa branch of the Southern organization have been persistent in Iowa this summer.

Mrs. Hazlett declared this morning that the Salvation army was used as a subterfuge to catch her unaware.

"They got the army to come marching in front of me, waving their flags and singing," she said. "Then the mob attacked me, jerking me from the stand."

A farmer brought Mrs. Hazlett back to Mason City late last night.

Appeals to Mayor
"Mayor Beecher of Mason City, a Socialist, was reading Victor Berger's Milwaukee Leader when I went to see him yesterday," Mrs. Hazlett said, "but he refused me police protection."

Mrs. Hazlett was asked to leave her Mason City hotel as an "undesirable."

Other reports declare that the crowd pelted her with eggs and that two unidentified men, who attempted to aid her against the "former service men and others," were injured in the melee.

Mrs. Hazlett will take up the case against certain Mason City citizens with Attorney General Benjamin Gibson in Des Moines today, it was reported.

BOY DIED FIGHTING RAIDERS IN MEXICO

EL PASO, Aug. 24.—Bennett Boyd, El Paso youth, killed by Mexican bandits at Carretas ranch in Mexico, August 18, died with his rifle in his hand and wounded several of the attackers before he fell himself.

This report was received in El Paso by Bishop O. P. Brown, Mormon leader, from a friend. According to Bishop Brown, the bandits previously had raided a commissary at Ojitas, fifteen miles from the scene of the Boyd murder. The storekeeper, a half-Indian, named Stevenson Bunk, was slain and the place rifled.

The bandit gang then moved toward the Carretas place, where they found Boyd and small party of cowboys engaged in a roundup. The bandits greatly outnumbered the Boyd crew and at once opened fire. Boyd's companions were driven off, all unhurt, but the youth stood his ground until he was mortally shot.

CAMP SHERMAN CHOSEN FOR VETERAN'S SCHOOL

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—Camp Sherman at Chillicothe, O., will be the first army cantonment chosen for one of the four United States vocational universities to be established in different sections of the country, veterans' bureau officials said here.

Announcement of the selection of the first rehabilitation institution site will be made, according to Director Forbes, within the next ten days, prior to his leaving for a tour of the country to select the remaining sites.

The first university for former service men, Colonel Forbes said, will be in operation inside of three months with about 2000 men in attendance.

MOORISH TRIBESMEN REPULSED BY SPANISH

MELILLA, Morocco, Aug. 24.—Moorish tribesmen are increasing their attacks upon the outer zone of the Spanish defenses of this city, but have been repulsed with losses. The enemy is using cannon in operations against the Spanish trenches.

Officers of the Spanish army have begun preparations for a punitive expedition against the tribesmen.

SOVIET FEEDING TOTS IN FACE OF FAMINE

LONDON, Aug. 24.—A dispatch from John Graudenz, United Press staff correspondent, dated August 22, stated he was leaving last Monday night for the famine regions of the Volga.

"I have at last broken through the red tape," Graudenz wired. "I am going to the Volga for ten days, to report at first hand upon conditions in the famine-stricken area."

The following cable description of conditions in Moscow was received today:

By JOHN GRAUDENZ
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)
(Copyright, 1921, by United Press.)
MOSCOW, Aug. 24.—The laughter of little children rings in Moscow streets today just as it does in every city in the world.

The Soviet regime has one lasting thing to its credit—it has taken care of the little ones, at least in the Bolshevik capital.

I visited many parts of Moscow, walking the streets unmolested, accompanied sometimes by laughing groups of chattering, bright-eyed children, who were happy and far from starving. They skipped along, following curiously nearly every movement, much as American kiddies in a great city would follow a Russian in native costume.

Visits Moscow Slums
Little babies, in the arms of mothers or big sisters, stared, round-eyed, at "the American."

In the poorer quarters of the city I noticed that the children were not as well nourished as one would like to see them. But for a country in the straits in which Russia finds itself, the "slums" of Moscow compare favorably with those of any large city.

The government is taking care of the future generation of Russian men and women, there is no doubt left in my mind about that. Here and there I saw bread lines, where food was handed out to the hungry—and in many instances it was mostly milk for the children.

And the dogs! They came barking at my heels from every direction, despite reports that they had all been eaten long ere this.

The street through which I walked were poorly paved and many of them would have been considered impassable by a careful chauffeur of a luxurious automobile, but to the weary Russians they are still serving the purpose as means of communication between different parts of the city. Huge holes here and there do not trouble Russian drivers or pedestrians.

Houses Need Repairs
The houses, too, in many parts of the city are dilapidated. Some lean at crazy angles to the sidewalks. All need paint, or mortar where the stones gape.

The churches, however, are in good condition. Priests hold their services dressed in the customary gold and silver attire.

It is difficult to tip in Russia—one has to stop and figure out how many thousands of rubles this man should have and whether a meager 500 is worth anything to that man, ragged and starved looking, though he may be.

THREE MORE MINES COLORADO SHUT DOWN

TRINIDAD, Colo., Aug. 24.—Three more Colorado Fuel & Iron company mines of this district have been shut down indefinitely. As a result about 600 miners are out of employment. Lack of orders is stated as the reason for shutting down the mines.

FEAR HEAVY DEATH TOLL AS TYPHOONS SWEEP CHINA COAST

SHANGHAI, China, Aug. 24.—Fears that a death list running as high as ten thousand has resulted from typhoons around Ningpo, on the coast and on the Yangtze river were expressed by relief workers today.

Two communications with the district has been severed. Two European steamers were reported driven aground on the Shanghai bar and several hundred junks were swamped.

A tidal wave was reported to have followed the typhoon at Ningpo.

WOMAN IN SLAYING CASE IN COLLAPSE FROM LONG ORDEAL

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 24.—"Madalynne is very ill."

This was the statement of matrons at the county jail today, in turning away all would-be visitors of Madalynne Obenchain, awaiting trial for the murder of John Belton Kennedy.

Mrs. Obenchain's illness was said to be due to the mental strain to which she has been subjected since the tragic mid-night of August 5, when Kennedy, who was in her company, was shot and killed at lonely Beverly Glen by "two dark figures."

INDIA NATIVES IN ATTACK ON WHITES

United Press Leased Wire
BOMBAY, Aug. 24.—Stirred by religious fanatics, armed mobs of thousands of natives are spreading fire and terror in the Malabar district. Desperate appeals for help have been sent out by white inhabitants. Military reinforcements were today reported arriving.

A native mob, marching through several successive small towns, burned dwellings of the white inhabitants, looted the post offices and public buildings and destroyed private property.

Railway lines have been cut and military garrisons at Labar were fired on by the mobs. Many casualties resulted.

ACCUSED PREACHER GRILLED BY POLICE

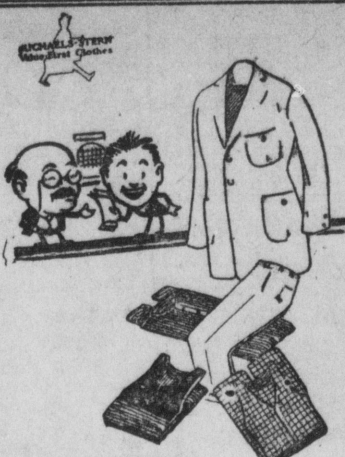

United Press Leased Wire
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 24.—The Rev. John Spencer, former Presbyterian minister at Fulton, Cal., will be taken to Santa Rosa from San Francisco today, on the second leg of his journey from San Jose to Lakeport, Cal., to face a charge of killing his wife, Mrs. Emma Spencer.

Spencer was questioned for two hours at the jail here late yesterday, but stoutly maintained his innocence.

"We already have enough evidence to warrant prosecution, however," said District Attorney H. B. Churchill of Lake county. "Spencer is beginning to make conflicting statements."

Spencer, who is aged about 50 and formerly practiced medicine in Oklahoma, would not talk to newspapermen, further than to say that he had done nothing wrong.

Arrival of Cousin Is Signal for Much Entertaining

The arrival in this city for an extended visit of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence E. Blee and small son, David, of Palo Alto, was of interest to a large number of former friends and classmates of Mr. Blee, who is a graduate of the Santa Ana high school with a wide circle of friends.

Finishing at Stanford, where he took the course in civil engineering, Mr. Blee has since been connected with the Oregon-California Power company.

Mr. and Mrs. Blee are the guests of his mother, Mrs. Ida Blee of Cypress street, and of his aunt, Mrs. R. J. Blee, 311 Orange avenue. A host of youthful cousins, between whom there is a bond almost approaching that of brotherhood, are meeting frequently for little celebrations in honor of the guests. An unusually happy affair is planned for the coming Saturday, when relatives from far and near will gather at Laguna Beach for an all-day picnic.

Among the out-of-town guests will be Harry Blee of San Juan Capistrano, Robert Blee, Superintendent of the Puente schools, Lieut. Ben Blee of the Navy reserves, Harry Blee, of the Immigration Service in Los Angeles and a number of others. Fully twenty-five closely-bound cousins are expected to join in the reunion.

Los Angeles Guests In Madden Home

Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Christopher, of Los Angeles, were guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Madden and their daughter, Miss Mildred Murphy, 605 South Birch street.

Miss Murphy leaves soon for New York, where she will enter Columbia university to take her Master's degree in either English or psychology, in each of which she majored at the University of California.

Mr. and Mrs. Christopher have been close personal friends of Miss Murphy ever since her childhood and came to spend the day with her before her departure for the east.

An interesting phase of their visit was the history of their chaperone who accompanied them, and whose story they told during the day. He is the only surviving member of a Russian family high in the military and social life of the empire, his father having been a general in the royal army, under the reign of the late czar. At the time of the overthrow of the empire and the murder of the czar and the imperial family, the entire family of the young man was wiped out and he succeeded in escaping at a great risk. He is an accomplished linguist, speaking nine different languages and is an unusually interesting man.

Fishing Party With Two Sessions

F. S. Bishop, packing house contractor, entertained his crew, their wives and feminine friends on a launch ride Sunday. The party went deep-sea fishing and, according to reports, the fishing was good—for the fish. However three barracuda, one weighing 45 pounds, were caught by A. J. Smith while his companions concluded that it was better to give than receive. Balboa was the port of call.

Smith's catch served as an excuse to continue the party under more favorable conditions Monday evening. At this time the fish were cooked and served at an all fresco supper under the walnut trees of the "Boss" home. Games were played and with both feet on the ground the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bishop declared that they had enjoyed the affair immensely.

Among the guests were: A. D. Bishop, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cassaday, Peter Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Cole and son Raymond, Miss Ruth Smith, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Smith, Evelyn Smith, Alfred Smith Jr., Wesley Smith, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Ferguson and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Magee, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Hebard and son Harold Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Park Ash and son Leonard, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Thompson, Miss Betty Thompson, D. L. Long, N. A. Butterfield, Mr. and Mrs. N. D. Rudell, John Boatwright, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Miller, Harold Bishop, Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Bishop.

Guests from Gate City Welcomed In Santa Ana

Miss Dorothea Cannon of San Bernardino, arrived for a week's visit at the home of Miss Kathleen Schowengerdt, 610 East Chestnut street, and will be the incentive for a number of pleasant little social affairs during her stay. A number of brief trips to the nearby beaches will be enjoyed by the young people with a possibility of a week-end stay at Long Beach.

Miss Schowengerdt and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Schowengerdt were former residents of the Gate City and have welcomed many San Bernardino folk to their home since making it in Santa Ana. Mrs. Longmire and her daughter, Miss Elizabeth Longmire, returned to the former city only yesterday after a week spent in the hospitable Schowengerdt home, during which time many pleasant affairs were enjoyed, among them a visit to the Peace Pipe pageant at Laguna, which the visitors found far exceeding their every expectation.

THE PATCHWORK QUILT

By ELEANOR ELLIOTT

Away back in the years of our grandmother's childhood, the patchwork quilt was in the height of its glory.

Winter evenings were devoted to the piecing of little scraps of material into the intricate patterns of the "Log Cabin" the "Prairie Rose," the "Arkansas Traveler" and all the rest of the fanciful names which seemed to fit the individual pattern.

At the little neighborhood gatherings of that earlier day which more closely approximated the club afternoons of today, the piece bag was carried along to yield its treasures for the piecing of the quilt, and when neighbors gathered together, great was the exchange of the various scraps of Mary's frocks and Johnny's blouses, all to be joined together into a harmonious whole, and quilted with fairlike stitches, made into one of Grandmother's famous patchwork quilts.

Today, we offer you an interchange of scraps from the never-failing scrap bag of Memory, and if you will offer some of YOUR bits of gay-colored memories and musings in return, we will use the needle and imagery to stitch them together and spread the quilt out for your view each day.

I have a little cubby-hole in which I tuck away

The ardent, vagrant, troubling thoughts that come to me each day. When'er one lifts its head and says "It's time you heeded me"

I thrust it in the cubby-hole and know serenely.

But when at last the day is gone, and night begins to lower,

Those ardent, vagrant troubling thoughts begin to crowd the door.

The hinges yield beneath the strain the thoughts come tumbling through

And make me think them all night long, in spite of all I do.

How many amateur bakers know that delicious little cinnamon biscuits can easily be prepared at home, and not only form a pleasing variation to the "continental breakfast" of coffee, fruit and rolls, but are delicious tidbits for the children's school lunches? To prepare them, roll ordinary baking powder biscuit dough thin, spread with butter and sprinkle thickly with sugar and ground cinnamon. Roll and cut into little slices. Place these in a tin, allowing a little room for rising. Sprinkle with a few drops of water and bake in a quick oven.

Guests from Arkansas In Santa Ana Home

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur A. Ferguson and their young daughter, Helen, of Fort Smith, Arkansas, were house guests over the week-end of their aunt, Mrs. Charles A. Preston, 605 South Van Ness avenue, leaving yesterday for Long Beach, where they are located at Hotel Virginia. From that point they plan to take the various places of interest along the coast, and if business interests do not call Mr. Ferguson home too soon, they will return for a more extended visit with Mrs. Preston and other Santa Ana friends.

Mr. Ferguson is president of the Ferguson Wholesale Lumber company at Fort Smith and is also interested in various large oil holdings in Oklahoma. The party came to this section by way of Colorado, where they visited various points of interest. Upon their return they plan to take the Southern route and stop in Paso for a visit with their son, Julius Ferguson.

Beach Party For Wedding Guests

Mrs. J. Waldsmith and Mrs. F. C. Barron of Los Angeles, and Mr. and Mrs. George J. Waldragel of Long Beach, who are house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Philip Amrhein, called to this city for the Amrhein-Robinson wedding, were the guests at a pleasant beach party yesterday afternoon when Mr. and Mrs. Amrhein entertained with a picnic supper at Newport.

Today will see the breaking up of the house party, as the different guests were planning a return to their homes this afternoon.

company has brought out a new book by the gifted author called "In His Steps Today" which is aimed at the problems of the hour, and is in the form of talks by members of a group of people with Jesus as the leader, using, of course, His words from a New Testament.

Up in Siskiyou county, a family having two daughters, one 16 and the other 15 years of age, has appealed to Will C. Wood, state superintendent of public instruction, for a school teacher. A recent amendment to the state constitution makes it necessary that a teacher be employed for the girls who are alone in their district and live twenty miles from a school. Among the abilities which this particular teacher will be required to possess, will be the enjoyment of fishing, hunting, horseback riding and all outdoor sports.

Plan to Open Cottage At Balboa In Honor Of House Guests

The attractive beach cottage of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Robinson at Balboa will be opened tomorrow for a few days when Mrs. Robinson with her guests, Mrs. Harriet Carver, Mrs. Catherine Peeler and Mrs. J. B. Roberts, all of Los Angeles, will take possession.

No entertaining will be done as the party, which is a strictly family one, is planned more for rest and relaxation than for social pleasures. A return will be made to Santa Ana at the end of the week.

Mrs. Carver is the mother of Mr. Robinson, while Mrs. Peeler is Mrs. Robinson's mother and Mrs. Roberts is her sister.

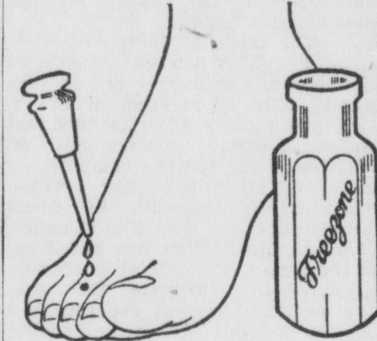

Stay to Include Los Angeles Visit

Welcomed by the members of the younger social set, Miss Zilpha Brown, of San Diego, has arrived for a visit with Miss Doris Robbins, 830 Lacy street.

A number of informal affairs are planned for Miss Brown's visit, part of which will be spent in Los Angeles in company with Mrs. O. M. Robbins, at the home of the latter's daughter, Mrs. E. T. Cheverton.

Betty Lou Goes Shopping

IT'S such a pleasure to shop here in Santa Ana. I feel that I can always get the very best in whatever I am looking for in the stores, and everything is up-to-the-minute in quality and service. "Shop at home" has proven a convenient as well as an economical motto for me.

BETTY LOU.

ONE thing I'm not going to worry about in the new house is the drapery. I'm going to let the CHANDLER FURNITURE STORE take entire charge of it. You know they are so efficient about things like that. They do everything, from taking the measurements through making and hanging, and they have so many beautiful designs in drapery materials in stock.

MY Christmas cards this year are going to be the nicest I've ever sent. I'm getting them at SAM STEIN'S, of course, and I'm having our name engraved on them, in addition to the usual good wishes. Sam Stein has some beautiful designs in greeting cards, and is taking orders for engraving now. It's wise to make an early selection, too, for every design he sells is an exclusive one, so you may be sure your Christmas card is not duplicated by some one else's.

The beauty spot is coming back again, being worn preferably on the chin.

JERRY brought home a new record last night from SHAFER'S MUSIC HOUSE, and really, I think I enjoyed it more than almost any of the other records we've gotten lately. It was "Roamin' in the Gloamin'", sung by Harry Lauder, and it just tugged at my heart strings. You know there's some thing about the Scotchman's voice that strikes a responsive chord in all of us, and when he sings his own favorite song, the magic is complete.

IF there is such a thing as a "china paradise," I think it must be the D. L. ANDERSON china store. There is just about every kind of porcelain ware the heart of woman could desire in Anderson's. I found the loveliest set of Lustre cups and saucers; I had intended to get only one or two, for odd pieces, but I ended up by taking the set of six. One can never have too many cups and saucers, you know.

SUCH smart models in fall hats as I do find at MADAME MA-

RIE LOUISE'S clever millinery shop. You know her New York buyer sends her the most advanced styles, and they're always priced so reasonably, too. Really, Anita and I call the shop our "hat headquarters." It's at 318 Sycamore, just south of Fourth street.

It is predicted that chiffons will be very popular this winter for informal evening wear.

COLLARS and ties, socks and shirts; how the man of the family does worry about them. But Jerry doesn't any more, for he's appointed me a committee of one to shop for him at the WARDROBE and see that he's kept supplied. He says the Wardrobe is the one place in town where a woman can't go wrong in selecting things for a man. Not much of a compliment to feminine taste, but quite a recommendation for the Wardrobe, I'll have to admit.

COTTAGE cheese certainly has proved a good luncheon standby for me this summer. It's possible to make so many delicious dishes with it, and it's so wholesome for the children. I always get the cheese from the EXCELSIOR CREAMERY, for I find that they make it so rich and with such a uniformly good flavor.

ONE item of our household budget that never worries me is our grocery bill. I buy all our groceries at GERRARD BROTHERS, and I always know that I'm getting the most and the best for my money. Their goods are of such good quality and I find their prices are lower in proportion than any other grocer in town.

Leave the lid off your bread crumb jar and the crumbs will be easier to use.

I THINK membership in the AUTOMOBILE CLUB OF ORANGE COUNTY is such a help to the woman driver. It makes me feel so secure when I am driving to know that our car is insured with them, and their map and road guide service has come to my rescue several times when I wasn't sure about the best way to reach my destination. I feel as if the Winged Wheel were my guardian angel.

ANOTHER thing that I think is a tremendous help to the woman driver is the battery and ignition service at the ORANGE COUNTY IGNITION WORKS. I take the car in every two weeks for the battery test, and about once a month have them look over the rest of the electrical equipment. Since I've been doing that I haven't a bit of trouble with the car, either.

I DO appreciate so much the prompt delivery service we get from the CRYSTAL CLEANING COMPANY. You know they call for, clean by their exclusive odorless Benzol process and deliver a suit or dress within two days. And it isn't a case of "haste makes waste" with them, either, for their work is always of the best quality.

WE have just about finished selecting the wall paper designs for the new house. MITCHELL'S have entire charge of the decorating, so of course we're getting the paper there. They have such a variety of beautiful and distinctive patterns—I know every room in the house will present just the right appearance.

Keep an extra pair of scissors in the kitchen to cut the tops of vegetables, string, etc.

AT last I've found the way to keep Bobby occupied these afternoons when he's so restless. I give him fifteen cents and send him down to the PRINCESS THEATRE. He dearly loves the movies, and will stay through both shows in the afternoon, perfectly contented, and, which appeals to me, perfectly safe. The pictures he sees there are always so wholesome that I feel the arrangement is just about ideal.

YOU know, I've found that the Violet Ray scalp treatments I get at the HAIRGROW SHOP, 117½ E. Fourth, not only help my scalp, but tone up my whole body. The electricity seems to put new life into me. They give a shampoo right with the treatment, too, if one wishes, and really, it's just like being made over. I feel that my weekly visit to the Hairgrow Shop is certainly beneficial, in more ways than one.

WE have been selecting some of the wood for the interior finishing of our new house that the BARR LUMBER COMPANY is building. We've decided to use Redwood for the living room and dining room and for the den too. It's such a beautiful wood and they tell me that it will keep its beauty for years. It adds a touch of romance too I think, to realize that one's mantle, for instance was once part of one of the great Redwood monarchs of the forest.

The new coats are trimmed with narrow bands of fur.

I've discovered something that delights my bargain hunting soul this week. The EXCLUSIVE BLOUSE SHOPPE is offering a discount of 20% on all their lovely waists, to make way for the new fall stock. I got three waists for myself and two for Anita, and my conscience doesn't hurt at all, for I think it's the best kind of economy to take advantage of such an opportunity.

I think they have absolutely the most delicious home made candy I ever ate at JAMES' CONFECTIONERY. You can watch it being made, you know, in that airy room next door, and when you taste the finished product—it just melts in your mouth. Anita, the little minx, knows that if she wants me to do something very special for her, the quickest way to win my approval is with a bag of James' maple fudge.

WE took some of the most wonderful pictures on our Big Bear trip. We got the films at RABE'S STUDIO, in the W. H. Spurgeon Bldg., and of course had them developed and printed there. You know they develop for only five cents a roll when you buy your films there, and the results they get with their Crystallone printing process are remarkable. The photos are so clear, and the corners don't curl the way they do with ordinary printing.

I think a woman appreciates so much being able to deal with a reliable real estate firm. I have a piece of property I want to sell, and I'm putting it in the hands of WALLACE AND GOODE, in the W. H. Spurgeon Building. I know they'll handle it so that both I and the buyer will be well satisfied, for I've had experience with them before.

"BUSTER BROWN" is the watchword for shoes in our family. You know WATKIN'S BOOTERY carries a full line of this make in all sizes and styles. And I like them so for the children. Bobby's are so serviceable, and Anita says she finds the special foot-shaping last in the Buster Brown one-strap oxford the most comfortable she's ever worn. And this season they are selling at the new low prices, too, several dollars cheaper than last year.

WONDERING WHY COUNTY BOARD IGNORES IT

"Why in the blankety blank don't the supervisors of this county pay some attention to the demands of the taxpayers in the matter of good roads?"

That, in substance—and in almost exact language—except that "blankety blank" wasn't at all blank,—is the question raised but not answered at a meeting of the Good Roads Committee of the Associated Chamber of Commerce, held at James Cafe last evening. The meeting was called by the chairman of the committee, D. Eymann Huff, who also invited a few who were not members of the committee but have been active in the discussion of good roads before the Associated Chamber.

Those attending, and who were the dinner guests of Mr. Huff preceding the meeting, were: D. Eymann Huff, manager of the Hewes Realty company, Elmer Jahraus, of Laguna Beach, Lew H. Wallace, of Newport Beach, H. A. Lake, of Garden Grove, C. L. Crumrine, of La Habra, W. G. Mitchell, superintendent of the Irvine company, S. C. Hartman of Anaheim, Otto Des Granges of Fullerton and J. P. Baumgartner of Santa Ana.

"Public Be Damned"

Many minor matters, and some not so minor, were discussed, but the alleged "public-be-damned" attitude of the Board of Supervisors was the storm center. Almost unanimously, and with nearly equal severity of condemnation, such an attitude was ascribed to a majority of the supervisors by those present. It was pointed out, however, that Supervisor Schumacher favors asphalt and concrete, as recommended by the Associated Chamber of Commerce, but is unable to secure any support for that kind of construction.

The Basis of Complaint

Many months ago the Associated Chamber of Commerce, at a very largely attended meeting at Fullerton, unanimously recommended that asphalt concrete construction be substituted for cement concrete except for "bridging" bogy places, and that all pavements be made thicker—not less than 6 to 8 inches. This recommendation was based upon the report of a special committee appointed to investigate the relative merits of cement concrete and asphalt concrete. It was brought out in the discussion last night that not a dissenting voice was raised against the adoption of the recommendation of asphalt concrete and thicker pavements, although several of the supervisors and the county engineer were present.

Represents Public Sentiment

It was argued that such a largely attended meeting of the Associated Chamber unquestionably fairly represented public sentiment. However, notwithstanding these facts, it was the opinion of a very large majority of those present last night, that no attempt in good faith had been made by the supervisors to conform to the recommendations. It was pointed out that just a few days ago a contract was let for the paving of East Seventeenth street, from Prospect avenue to Newport Road, with 5-inch cement concrete.

Another Point of View

In fairness to the supervisors it was suggested that all the road work that has been done recently has been contracted in short sections, not sufficient in volume to justify the bringing to the county of an asphalt concrete mixing plant. But nearly all of those present expressed the opinion that the supervisors should install an asphalt concrete mixing plant for the use of the county and to be rented to contractors. In the absence of such a plant in the county, it was pointed out, it is futile if not insincere to call for alternative bids for asphalt concrete construction, as has been done in some instances.

Cement Construction Failure

In support of the contention that concrete construction is in large measure a failure, Chairman Huff exhibited photographs and submitted reports of the Southern California Automobile club and of the U. S. Good Roads Bureau, all of which seemed to indicate clearly that, so far, the public has not attained anything like practical or general success with cement concrete construction.

Huff called especial attention to the fact that as far-minded and intelligent an observer as County Auditor Jerome "had failed to detect the real condition of the road between San Diego and El Centro." Mr. Jerome, he said, had recently been quoted in a published interview as saying that road was in good condition, but photographs were submitted by Mr. Huff that he thought unquestionably showed it in bad condition with respect to durability. It has not yet seriously disintegrated or broken up, but its condition, as indicated by the photographs, is such that it will go to pieces within a few months.

Careful Examination Necessary

Mr. Huff attributed the failure of Mr. Jerome and others to discover the true condition of this and other cement concrete roads to the fact that they naturally drive over them at about 30 to 35 miles an hour. Likewise, he called attention to East Seventeenth street. "Drive over this road," said Mr. Huff, "at even 25 miles an hour, and you will pronounce it in good condition, so far as its appearance goes; but drive over at 10 miles an hour and you'll find plenty and unmistakable signs of disintegration."

Defends Auto Clubs

Another matter to which Chairman Huff called attention was the fact the Automobile Club of Southern California had been given much condemnatory publicity for recommending a maximum truck load of 28,000 pounds, while the fact that the club subsequently wrote Governor Stephens amending its recommendation by reducing the maximum truck load to 22,000 was not even generally published.

Farm Bureau Interested

Statements were made at last night's meeting indicating that the Associated Chamber of Commerce is not the only civic body that is up in arms because the supervisors have allegedly failed to pay any attention to its recommendations. At least two farm bureau centers, it

COUNTY ENGINEERS SEE PAVING WORK

County Engineer A. C. Fulmor of Riverside, County Engineer J. L. McBride of Orange county and County Engineer Watson of Imperial county have finished a tour of inspection of some road work Los Angeles county is doing.

The party visited the San Fernando do valley, where Los Angeles county is laying some asphaltic concrete in Santa Susana pass.

They also inspected a portion of the state highway at Calabozos in Ventura county where the old 4 inch concrete road is being resurfaced. The state is laying a 4-inch reinforced top with 2½ foot reinforced shoulders on either side, increasing the width of the highway to 20 feet.

As to the controversy between the auto clubs and the Highway Commission, Chairman Huff expressed amazement that the supervisors of San Bernardino, Riverside and Orange counties should endorse the policy of the Highway Commission, especially with respect to doing work with "day labor." He read official reports showing that the cost of work by "day labor" exceeded the engineers' estimates from 190 percent to nearly 500 percent on numerous jobs, while the cost of contract work in excess of engineers' estimates was from 30 to 60 percent.

Day Labor Plan Condemned

As to the controversy between the auto clubs and the Highway Commission, Chairman Huff expressed amazement that the supervisors of San Bernardino, Riverside and Orange counties should endorse the policy of the Highway Commission, especially with respect to doing work with "day labor." He read official reports showing that the cost of work by "day labor" exceeded the engineers' estimates from 190 percent to nearly 500 percent on numerous jobs, while the cost of contract work in excess of engineers' estimates was from 30 to 60 percent.

Supplemental Report Ordered

While the discussion last night lasted three hours, the only formal action was to authorize President Huff to appoint a sub-committee to make a survey of present conditions and activities in road construction and maintenance, and report to the parent committee, which would then formulate a supplemental report to be presented to the Associated Chamber at its next meeting.

Other Side of the Question Is Presented

The board of supervisors, in a measure, is following the recommendation of the Associated Chambers of Commerce and the special committee of the organization made at a meeting in Fullerton April 26, 1921, according to the statement of T. B. Talbert, chairman of the supervisors, today. The recommendations are being followed in the adoption of a heavier type of pavement on new work and the use of better material, according to Talbert. The board, however, has not followed the full recommendation of the committee that new work be of six-inch construction.

All Pavements Thicker

No contracts have been let for four-inch work since the recommendations were made, except where new pavement has been put down on old pavement. Five-inch pavement has been ordered on new work, which has been done exclusively so far on roads that do not carry heavy traffic.

"We formerly built four-inch pavements," said Talbert. "We now are building five-inch on new work and in addition have strengthened the material by using more cement," said the supervisor in answer to a query as to why the board had not followed the recommendations of the two committees.

Funds Not Available

"The chief trouble with adopting the recommendations of the committees completely is that with the money we have we would not get very far in road construction work. We are adding an inch and increasing the strength of the material. This is evidence that we have given consideration to the recommendations. We are doing the best we can."

"If our people would be satisfied with less mileage in new work each year, we probably could build the heavier type of road. I imagine there would be general complaint were we to cut seriously into new road mileage."

"The committee declared in favor of asphaltic concrete. We have as yet let no contract for this class of work. We have in recent road improvements asked for bids on both concrete and asphaltic work. Concrete has been the cheaper, although in bids received recently on a certain piece of work the prices were nearly the same. Had decision been in my hands, I believe I would have ordered the asphaltic concrete in order to give that type of construction a test."

Talbert Favors Cement Concrete "I do not agree with the recommendation of the special committee that asphaltic concrete is the best construction. Asphaltic is good in the early years of its life, but in my opinion it will not give the long service that concrete will. Asphalt deteriorates with age while concrete grows stronger. When asphaltic construction starts to go to pieces after a more or less limited number of years of service, it breaks up quickly and practically requires rebuilding."

Talbert stated that strict enforcement of the weight limit on trucks had proven wonderfully successful in saving the highways of the county. He declared that the roads are not being broken up as rapidly as in the past.

Successful Salvaging

"The improved highways are standing up much better than they were and not going to pieces so rapidly," declared Talbert. "We are catching up with the repair work and this coming year we will get ahead of the work at the rate we are progressing at this time. "We did not do much repair work during two or three years of the war, because of the excessive costs. The result was that we got behind, and are just catching up."

Mice, the most hunted of all animals, are still the most numerous of four-footed creatures.

POSTAL SAVINGS HAVE DROPPED TO LOW POINT

Postal savings have dropped to a very low point in Santa Ana, C. D. Overshiner, postmaster, said today.

"Postal savings accounts began to drop during the war, and they have never recovered. War savings stamps carry four per cent interest. Postal savings draws only two per cent interest. The conclusion to be drawn is obvious."

"Congressional action has been requested to adjust this difference. Another thing, depositors lose the interest on their accounts if they draw the money out before a certain time has expired."

"The foreign element, I have noticed, are mostly in favor of the postal savings system."

"Postmasters are not permitted to give out the figures of savings accounts, though we are allowed to state whether the total is growing or diminishing."

"In Santa Ana it is diminishing, rapidly approaching the vanishing point, in fact."

HIGHTOWER ASSUMES POSITION OF MARTYR

United Press Leased Wire

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 24.—District Attorney Swart of San Mateo county is in the city investigating further revelations made by William Hightower, charged with the murder of Father Heslin of Colma, Cal., in another written statement that Swart refused to make public.

Hightower, according to Swart, has assumed the position of the martyr, intimating that he cannot tell all he knows for fear that he might implicate others.

Concluding several finely typewritten pages discussing his case abstractly, Hightower declared, "I must keep silence. I will not betray others."

Swart believes, however, that the document contains several important references, and apparently is convinced that he is on the track of important evidence, the nature of which he will not divulge.

Swart stated that he intends to file the information against Hightower within the next week or ten days.

DECISION IN DEBS CASE NEAR, REPORT

United Press Leased Wire

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—A definite statement of policy by President Harding on Eugene V. Debs, Socialist leader, and other imprisoned during the war for violation of the espionage act, was believed near today.

Friends of Debs today confidentially expect Harding to take decided action following signing of the peace treaty, which now appears imminent.

Friends who have been working for Debs' release from the federal prison at Atlanta, Ga., ever since the armistice, gained the impression from officials in Washington that the matter of freedom for all political prisoners depended on the conclusion of a peace treaty with Germany. Increasing pressure has been brought to bear for Debs' release, due to his reported illness.

NO CHILD WONDER FOR HIM

A barber who was a great practical joker (and the two businesses go very poorly together) had a monkey trained to lather the customers. One day a stranger came in and the barber signalled to the animal to get busy. Soon the stranger was lathered very thoroughly and enthusiastically, though he appeared nervous and watchful throughout the job.

At length the monkey, having covered all possible spots with the thick white froth started for a razor, when the stranger arose and said:
"No, sonny! Not that! You may lather me if you want to, but your father has to shave me!"

Poppies have a very injurious effect upon other flowers placed in the same vase, which seems to react upon themselves, as they soon fade and die under such conditions. The same applies to sweet peas, which should always be placed by themselves.

FORMER PASTOR HERE IS DEAD AGED 83

The Rev. Father Peter Stoetters, former pastor of St. Joseph's Catholic Church of Santa Ana, died in Los Angeles yesterday.

Funeral services will be conducted Friday at 9:30 a. m. at the Cathedral of St. Vibiana, Los Angeles, according to announcement today. For several years past the Rev. Stoetters was chaplain of the convent of Our Lady of Mercy. He was 83 years old.

The Rev. Stoetters came to the Anaheim parish in 1886 for one year. He suffered much illness and the next year went to Germany to consult specialists. He came to Santa Ana in 1888 when the first parish was established here and took charge of the church.

Up until that time Santa Ana Catholics had travelled to Anaheim to attend mass, Santa Ana being then a part of the Anaheim parish. In October, 1888, the first church here was dedicated, the money being furnished by Joseph Yoch. The Rev. Father Stoetters was the pastor.

From Santa Ana the priest went to other parishes and then became chaplain of the convent of Our Lady of Mercy in Los Angeles. He has been suffering greatly during the past year and for some time has been unable to walk. He took his misfortune without complaint and was patient and good-natured to the end.

Interment will be in Calvary Cemetery, Los Angeles.

OPTIMISM KEYNOTE OF SCHOLARLY WILL

CHICAGO, Aug. 24.—Cincinnati and Pittsburgh relatives are the chief beneficiaries in the will of the late Hugh R. Stewart, which has just been filed for probate. The will is declared by probate court officials to be the most beautifully worded document ever filed in the court. Written in scholarly style, it is rich in optimistic philosophy. Each bequest is accompanied by words of regard and affection for the beneficiary.

It disposes of an estate of $35,000.

The judge bequeathed $1000 to Joseph Stewart, a brother, in Pittsburgh; $1000 to Anna K. Stewart, a sister, Cooleen, Ireland, and the bulk of the residue to Samuel M. Stewart, another brother of Cincinnati.

"To my fellowmen I wish to express myself by saying that there is more real pleasure to be found in the pursuit of happiness than in the pursuit of worldly wealth, and that real happiness can only come through right living and right thinking, and by doing to others as we would they should do unto you," the will reads in part.

"It is better to strew roses than thorns in the pathways of life. There is nothing so productive of good and lasting results as kindness, and there is nothing so wanton and cruel as unkindness."

"We cannot take with us the wealth of the world, but I believe that our every good deed done, every kind word spoken and every effort to put forth here to make for happiness and to help our fellowmen, is treasured in heaven to our credit there."

"I have never wanted nor sought great worldly wealth, but withal a kind Providence has liberally supplied all my needs until the present time, and I believe will up to the end."

PREMIUM LIST FOR BIG FAIR IS ISSUED

The premium list for the Southern California Fair, which will be held at Riverside, October 11 to 16, has been issued.

This will be the ninth annual session of this fair and each year has worked a steady and consistent growth and development. This year, the premiums in practically every department show a marked increase over last year and in the important agricultural and livestock departments they rank with those of the state fair.

An interesting feature of the premium list of Riverside Fair is the special attention given to the boys' and girls' clubs and all forms of junior agricultural work which comes under the United States Department of Agriculture and the State Agricultural College extension work. There has been great activity in the Junior Club work this year and it is estimated that from fifty to sixty clubs from all parts of Southern California will contest for premiums at the Riverside.

The livestock judging clubs from high school agricultural departments from all parts of the state will be judged at Riverside by a committee of judges selected by the State University. It is planned to send the winners in the contest to the National Livestock exposition.

NEW HAY CROP SHORT ABOUT 11,000,000 TONS

CHICAGO, Aug. 24.—Thirteen per cent of last year's hay crop is back in the hands of growers, and the new crop is about 11,000,000 tons short, according to delegates who addressed the National Hay association convention here.

Walter Lichtenstein of the First National bank of Chicago told the delegates that while the actual wealth of the country has increased about 10 per cent, the money circulation has practically doubled since 1912. He said that farm liquidation had been completed in advance of other lines and urged liquidation in manufacture, distribution, production and labor.

CHARGE HIM WITH AUTO EMBEZZLING

Charged with embezzling an automobile from Mrs. Virginia Mitchell of Ontario, Newton Peterson of Santa Ana appeared before Judge George R. Holbrook on Ontario for arraignment. He was committed to the county jail until time of his preliminary hearing, in default of $1000 bonds.

Mrs. Mitchell, who swore to the complaint against Peterson, charged the latter with having secured an automobile from her under false pretenses. He was arrested in Santa Ana and taken to Ontario by Chief of Police W. O. Hardy of Ontario.

Peterson declared the charges preferred against him to be "spite work."

MORE THAN 200 ON SHRINE CLUB ROLL

That more than 200 nobles have signed for membership in the Orange County Shrine club was disclosed today to City Marshal Jernigan with receipt of papers that have been in the hands of others.

The meeting tonight for organization of the club will be held in the club rooms of the Orange County Motorcycle club, on the third floor of the Grand Opera house building.

It was discovered yesterday that lights are not available for the Grand opera house. The stage has been torn out and the lighting system interrupted. The motorcycle club tendered the free use of its rooms and the offer was accepted.

It was not anticipated today that all of the 200 or more Nobles who have signed for membership would be present tonight, but it is expected that a good majority of them will report for the organization meeting.

EDISON MAN WAITS ON COMMITTEE REPORT

Estimate of the cost of lighting North Main street, by the new ornamental standards that it is proposed to install, will be made by W. L. Diemling, manager of the Edison company. He has asked that the lighting committee, W. W. Greenleaf, street commissioner; W. W. Hoy, city engineer; and Will S. Decker, building inspector, supply him with a schedule of the lighting hours.

G. R. Grysdale, assistant manager of the Edison company, speaking for Diemling, who at present is on his vacation, said that this schedule had not been supplied, and that no estimate could be given until the lighting committee's report is received.

SOUTH PREPARES FOR HORTICULTURAL SHOW

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 24.—During the past two weeks progress has been substantial along development lines with the initial California Flower and Horticultural exhibition to be given by the California Association of Nurserymen in Exposition park here October 20 to 23.

All the planting area in the outdoor Sunken Garden has been taken by the commercial plantmen of the state. Allowing that the area represented covers over seven acres, divided into eighty-one plots, which (in many instances) have again been subdivided into sections, some idea is afforded as to its scope. When in full bloom this will be a blaze of color.

R. N. Renfro, who for many years has managed the National Orange show at San Bernardino, has been secured in a similar position for this undertaking.

A cablegram from the French government to Howard and Smith was received by them during the forepart of July announcing that their new rose entered as No. 252 in the Paris Bagatelle Rose garden was awarded the gold medal of merit as the best new rose for 1921.

Locally this rose is known under the name of Lolita Armour, and has already become a favorite among rosarians. This rose also won the sweepstake prize for the Pacific coast at the Portland, Oregon, rose festival last spring.

RICH COPPER FIELD FOUND IN ENGLAND

LONDON, Aug. 24.—Rich deposits of copper of a grade superior to that found in Spain have been discovered in the Sheffield lodes.

Assays have proved that the ore contains a remarkably high percentage of the metal. Surveys show that more than 500,000 tons are in sight. The beds of ore are already known to be at least 500 feet deep and the supply appears to be practically inexhaustible.

NEW YORK SALES ARE ENORMOUS

The fact that 625,000 bottles of Tanlac have been sold in the state of New York since its introduction there less than one year ago, is a big business item that will attract unusual attention throughout the entire East, for nothing like it has ever happened before. It breaks all records.

Mr. George B. Evans, manager of the Gibson-Snow Company, the well-known wholesale druggists, with branches in Albany, Buffalo, Rochester and Syracuse, recently announced that the preparation was now selling in their trade territories alone at the phenomenal rate of approximately 500,000 bottles a year. "If the present rate continues," said Mr. Evans, "this state alone will probably require considerably over 750,000 bottles a year. This is a tremendous figure, but I am really conservative in making this statement."

Tanlac is sold in Santa Ana by the Rowley Drug Company.

FOREST RANGER GIVES WARNING TO CAMPERS

Because of the extreme dryness of brush and trees at this season of the year, Forest Ranger E. W. Searcy, of the Trabuco division of the Cleveland National forest is taking every precaution to guard against fires in Trabuco canyon and other areas under his jurisdiction.

"Campers should be particularly careful during the next six weeks," said Searcy today. "They should see that camp fires are extinguished before they are deserted. Smoldering embers should not be left behind. Some of our worst fires have started from smoldering camp fires."

Searcy said that there is one lookout and four deputies guarding against fires in the Santa Ana mountains. They cover the entire district frequently.

Searcy said that one arrest had been made this month. That occurred on July 14 when he arrested W. S. Wemple of Santa Monica. Wemple left his camp fire burning. He was brought before Justice of the Peace Cox, pleaded guilty and paid a fine of $50.

According to Searcy the forest rangers are concerned principally with not accustomed to camping out. Despite warnings the build camp fires and then leave them burning. Others think they have extinguished their fires when they have not.

A disastrous fire has not occurred in the local mountains for some time and every effort is being made by the forest officials to keep the record clean.

AMERICAN GOLD COIN IS FOUND IN BAGGAGE

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—One hundred thousand dollars in gold coin of the United States, found in the baggage of Felice Haddad, a wealthy Venezuelan, who arrived here on the steamship Caracas from Venezuela, was temporarily taken possession of by customs inspectors pending an investigation.

The inspectors disagreed as to whether the visitor must declare the gold. Some said gold was confiscated in a similar case a number of years ago and that it was upheld by the courts. It was pointed out that Venezuela has an embargo against exporting gold.

The standard tire likes nothing better than to prove its service

PEOPLE used to be secretly envious of the young fellow who came tearing up the street and stopped his car with a jerk.

Now they are inclined to criticize such abuse of tires. A mark of the growing consciousness about tires—their service, their work, their value.

This same respect for a good tire is the reason why the four-square tire dealer has passed up odds and ends, "job lots", "seconds", "cut prices"—and come out squarely with the standard quality service of U. S. Tires.

He is getting a bigger, and also better, tire business than he ever had before.

S. S. SECRETARY TO RETURN TO MINISTRY

Members of the Orange County Sunday School association held their last monthly conference with the Rev. George W. Kitzmiller as secretary, last night. The Rev. Kitzmiller, who has been secretary of the association for the last two years, announces that he is to return to the ministry. He said he has not yet made his choice of pastorate, but is considering several offers.

The Rev. Kitzmiller's successor will be appointed by a combined conference of the Clerical club and the Sunday School association, the Rev. J. G. Kennedy said today. Whether the next secretary will be a paid officer will be decided by the conference.

The Rev. Mr. Kennedy said that it is the opinion of the Clerical club and the Sunday School association that a paid secretary could be supported. Full co-operation among the workers would accomplish that desirable result, he said.

The fourth Tuesday in September was set as the tentative date of the next Sunday School association conference.

The Rev. Kennedy continued his "Studies in Matthew," at yesterday's meeting, following the division gatherings. Basket lunches were clubbed together and added to the sociable close of the meeting.

AUTOS SKID ON WET PAVEMENT, THOSE IN MACHINES UNINJURED

Wet pavement brought three or four automobiles on the road between Westminster and Seal Beach to grief yesterday. Two machines turned over and a third stuck its nose in the ditch. So far as could be learned, nobody was seriously injured.

One of the machines that was wrecked was driven by Superintendent Hill of the Mile Keck Oil company of Huntington Beach. Hill was severely bruised. The car was top down in the ditch. It was taken in charge by the Arrow garage of Huntington Beach.

Two men and a woman were pinned under another car that skidded and went wheels up into the ditch. A Long Beach real estate man named Trotter arrived. He extricated the three victims of the wreck and found that nobody was more than slightly injured. The automobile was taken to a Long Beach garage, and it is understood that those who were in the car when it skidded and went into the ditch were residents of Long Beach. Their names could not be obtained.

THEIR SUCCESS IN EAST IS OUTLINED

Schemes adopted by the delegates from the Santa Ana Realty Board to the national convention of realtors at Chicago recently were disclosed last night at the public meeting of the board held at Temple Theater. Freeman H. Blodgett presided as chairman of the evening and Everett A. White, Linn L. Shaw and F. C. Pope told of the activities of the delegates en route to the convention city and during the convention. They declared that the character of advertising given this city and county could not have been secured for $500,000—and the delegates spent a little over $1100.

Ten thousand Chicago ball fans went wild over oranges passed out free by the delegates during one of the big league games in the city and bulls and bears in the wheat pit of the Chicago exchange halted momentarily in their mad rush when boxes of Orange county valencias were placed in the pit.

The film showing scenes in Orange county, including the special film of Laguna Beach, was presented last night. The pictures offer an evening of fine entertainment. They were shown in the Roosevelt theater at Chicago, running as an extra special feature of the regular program.

WALNUT INSTITUTE FOR SEPTEMBER 16

The executive committee of the Walnut Growers department of the Los Angeles County Farm Bureau has decided to stage the first annual field day for the walnut growers of Southern California on Friday, September 16, at La Puente Valley Walnut Growers' association packing house at Puente.

The morning session will be devoted to a field study of the walnut root rot, a disease which is occurring in many districts, the cause of which has not yet been determined, but which is now considered to be a serious menace to the walnut industry.

The afternoon program will include a number of prominent speakers on subjects of interest to walnut growers. It is expected that C. C. Teague, president of the California Walnut Growers' association, will render a report on the tariff fight at Washington, and Carlyle Thorpe, general manager of the same association, will speak on accomplishments of the past year. Professor J. W. Nelson of the state college of agriculture has been invited to discuss soil moisture problems.

Final organization of the Walnut Growers' department of the Los Angeles Farm Bureau, with election of officers for the coming year and adoption of the program of work will also take place at this meeting.

DESPONDENT VETERAN LEAPS INTO LAKE

CHICAGO, Aug. 24.—John Sheldon of Springfield, Ill., an overseas veteran with a service badge, wound stripe and hospital discharge, had been tramping the streets of Chicago for more than a month in quest of work. He was not particular what kind of a job he got, anything would do, just so he could get together a little money to send to his wife and children. But his search was in vain. Weary and tired, Sheldon strolled down to the municipal pier and jumped into the lake, intending to end it all, but he was rescued by a steamboat fireman.

Sheldon was taken to the American Legion headquarters after his rescue. When he told his name the clerk at headquarters gave a gasp. "John Sheldon," repeated the clerk. "Why, we've got a check for him from the government. It's been here four months. It's for $760."

John boarded a train from Springfield today. "It will mean a lot for the wife and kids," was all he could say.

SANATORIUM REPORT GROSSLY OVERDRAWN

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—Reports of conditions at the Johnson City, Tenn., sanatorium for disabled veterans in many instances have been grossly exaggerated, Charles M. Pearsall, inspector-general for the National home for disabled volunteer soldiers, has reported to the board of managers under whose auspices the sanatorium is operated.

"The men admitted," the report said, "that a small number of the men would get drunk, or drink, disregard their rest hours and treatment, and there were a few drug addicts, who were being treated in the hospital, but stated it was a very small percentage, and they felt that they should not be humiliated by being classed with this small number of men."

FUNERAL WILL PROBABLY BE SATURDAY

The body of Dale Talbott, 26, Santa Ana man, who was drowned Monday in the Merced river near Camp Curry, Yosemite, is expected to arrive here tomorrow morning. The Smith & Tuthill undertaking parlors were today waiting for a telegram telling when the body left Camp Curry. The young man was the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Talbott, 526 South Broadway.

Funeral services will probably be held on Saturday. Mrs. Talbott, the mother, is now on her way back to Santa Ana from Burlington, Iowa, where she had been visiting relatives. She is expected here Friday and interment will probably be the following day.

W. Stanley Gebb, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Gebb, 1726 Spurgeon, started yesterday from the Yosemite, according to telephone message from him. He is returning by machine and will probably arrive here tomorrow. Gebb and Talbott left Santa Ana a week ago yesterday for a two weeks' vacation, expecting to continue from the Yosemite to Lake Tahoe and from there to San Francisco.

Talbott was drowned when he went beyond his depth in the Merced river between Arch Rock and the Cascades at a place called Steamboat bay. He was in company with several other people, none of whom could swim. His body was recovered yesterday.

Talbott was a graduate of Santa Ana high school, a World war veteran, and had many friends in the city.

THREE CANDIDATES GIVEN ELK SECRETS

Three candidates were initiated at the meeting of the Santa Ana lodge of Elks, last night, at which Walter Eden, exalted ruler, presided. Banquet was held following the initiation, at which 150 members were present. The names of new members are A. M. Kramer, Hobart Ohowell and Walt C. Witman.

FURTHER FREIGHT CUT TO EAST ANNOUNCED

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 24.—Trans-continental railroads announced further rate reductions in east-bound transcontinental rates from California points. The new rates are effective October 3, 1921 and follow reductions previously announced which became effective yesterday.

G. W. Luce, freight traffic manager for the Southern Pacific lines said some reductions ranged as high as 50 per cent and covered many commodities.

Included in the reductions were cabbage, potash, wild cherry bark, dehydrated and frozen shelled eggs with other eggs and dairy products, vegetable tallow, wooden bulkheads, returned, malt, oil well supplies, children's toys (less than carload lots), fruit and melons, chloride of sulphur and storage batteries. The reductions take effect in group beginning at Colorado and extending to the Atlantic seaboard.

BURGLAR SENTENCED TO NEVADA PRISON

RENO, Nev., Aug. 24.—Compton R. Hubbard, 27 years old, whose burglary operations in many cities of the West, including Los Angeles, San Francisco and Oakland, are said by the police to have netted him upwards of $100,000 in jewelry during the last five months, was sentenced by Judge George A. Bartlett, left here to serve an indeterminate term of from two to fourteen years in state's prison.

Hubbard pleaded guilty yesterday to a charge of grand larceny in the robbery here August 9 of the home of P. A. McCarran.

HAS ADVERTISED IN REGISTER EVERY DAY FOR PAST 7 YEARS

"Newspaper advertising pays," Sam Stein, stationer declared today. "Of course, it pays. I ought to know. I have advertised in the Register every day of its publication for the last seven years."

"In fact I began advertising in the Register two months before I came to Santa Ana."

"It was a profitable ad. Santa Ana was not as large then as it is now, and the advent of a new merchant aroused considerable curiosity."

"I cashed in on that curiosity. The 'Sam Stein' sign was hung outside the store, and appeared in the Register. Sam Stein was coming to Santa Ana, the ad said, but it did not tell what he was going to do when he arrived here."

Business of developing large smile. "Even the Register advertising manager did not know what my business was going to be. I understand he told the inquisitive that judging from appearances, I must be a clothing merchant."

"But seriously, newspaper advertising is invaluable. The merchant who stops advertising soon stops business. He can't live if he doesn't tell the public that he is living. 'That's my philosophy of advertising, and judging from my business it is not based on a fallacy. This store now is too small for me—I mean my business. I have been looking for another place in Santa Ana for the last three years.'

ORANGE COUNTY CENTERS ARE TO JOIN IN BIG FAIR

Five Big Tents Engaged; Farmers Urged to Make Exhibit Memorable

With five large tents engaged, aggregating 75,000 square feet of exhibit space, and interest keen in the event, prospects are for an Orange County Fair this year that will eclipse all previous events. The fair will be held at Huntington Beach for four days, September 28-30, closing Saturday, October 1.

The usual exhibits of agricultural and horticultural products will be shown, also preserved fruits and vegetables, poultry and pet stock, domestic arts and needlework, etc., and in addition a comprehensive display of dairy cattle is being arranged for as a new feature. The Farm Bureau will take a greater part in the fair than ever before and the various Centers are expected to vie for $200 in cash prizes, offered for the best five community displays, $100 for first, $50 second, $25 third, $15 fourth, and $10 fifth.

Every resident of the county, especially the farmer, is invited to enter articles for exhibit in the various departments so that the fair will be really representative of the county's great production. As allotment of space must be made, however, it is urged that all prospective exhibitors notify the fair committee as soon as possible what they wish to exhibit so that space may be provided. Center committees in charge of community exhibits are especially urged to get busy at once as the competition will be keen.

Lynn H. Colburn is chairman of the Fair Committee and James F. Rogan, Secretary of the Huntington Beach Chamber of Commerce, is secretary. Communications should be addressed to Rogan or to the exhibit chairman of the various departments, as follows:

Dept. A, Agriculture and Horticulture, Murray Horne, Yorba Linda.
Dept. B, Poultry and Pet Stock, Hubert Howell, Bolsa, Huntington Beach.
Dept. C, Culinary, Miss Florence Larter, Huntington Beach.
Dept. D, Preserved Fruits and Vegetables, Miss Florence Larter.
Dept. E, Domestic Arts and Needlework, (notify Fair Secretary).
Dept. F, Floriculture, James F. Rogan, Huntington Beach.
Dept. G, Livestock, Andrew Moore, Wintersburg, Huntington Beach.
Dept. H, Education, W. B. Violette, Huntington Beach.
Dept. I, Apiary, Geo. J. Brown, Tustin.
Dept. K, Aviculture, Mrs. C. E. Lavering, Huntington Beach.

MAKES LOW SCORE
OAKWOOD, COUNTRY CLUB, CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 24.—Bob Peebles, of the Kickapoo club, Peoria, Ill., turned in a low score of 69—two below par—in the first round of the Western Open Golf tournament today. This is the lowest score ever made in championship play on this course.

Pointers on Poultry Are Selected By County Farm Bureau

Poultry pointers for Orange county flocks as given by the Orange County Farm Bureau follow:

Make your feed produce chicken meat, not chicken mites. Cull and market any hens which moult at this time; they are unprofitable to keep.

At this time of the year the hen that shows much yellow in shanks, beak, earlobe and skin is a slacker and will not show a good annual record.

The best layers have soft, pliable abdomens, while the poor layers are likely to have hard, flat abdomens, sometimes "bagging down."

The productive hen is a contented hen. The low producer is usually shy and will squawk when caught.

The longer a hen lays the more faded she appears.

The early molder is the low producer.

Mites live and reproduce in cracks and crevices of a building where there is filth and go on the fowls for food only. They are blood suckers.

Sodium fluoride used by either the dip or pinch method will easily control lice.

Sick hens are usually not worth working over. Prevention is better than cure.

Potassium permanganate is a good thing to put in the drinking water at the first signs of sickness.

HERE'S TWO WAYS TO MAKE WHITEWASH

Dairymen must whitewash their barns, for paint is too expensive.

The California State Dairy laws require milk houses and dairy barns to be white washed. The value of whitewash on surfaces of buildings and other structures, where it is impracticable or too expensive to use paint, is well known.

Calls come into the local Farm Bureau office for the Farm Advisor to give information on preparing whitewash. Realizing the extensive use of this mixture and for the dairymen to obtain desired results under ordinary conditions, the following simple methods of preparing the mixture will be found quite satisfactory:

1.—To 12 gallons of water add one bushel (62 pounds) of quick lime.
2.—Then dissolve 2 pounds of common salt and one pound of zinc sulphate in 2 gallons of hot water. Mix No. 1 and No. 2 and to this add 2 gallons of skim milk. This has been proven a very good preparation. Another formula quite commonly used, although not as effective as the former, is prepared as follows: Add 10 pounds of quick lime to 2 gallons of water and let stand for two hours before using.

NEW AVOCADO STANDS LIGHT FROST, REPORT

A variety of avocado, or alligator pear, the fruit of which attains a weight of 18 ounces and the trees of which will stand some frost, has been sent to the office of foreign seed and plant introduction, United States Department of Agriculture, by Wilson Popenoe, plant explorer in South America, and the buds of it are now growing in the department greenhouses.

Curiously, the new avocado, harder against cold than the ordinary West Indian and Guatemalan varieties, was discovered in Ecuador, a country situated on the Equator.

The region, hitherto unknown as producing this fruit, is in what is known as the Chota Valley, 6000 feet above sea level, giving a climate comparable to many regions much farther north.

Most of the fruits of varieties of this Mexican race are small. This one has fruits comparable in size with those of the more tender races. Regions occasionally visited by a temperature of plus 18 degrees Fahrenheit produced bearing trees of the Mexican avocado.

Crawly Trespasser Taken from Main Street to City Hall

Charged with meandering over North Main street which is temporarily closed to traffic, a big desert turtle was arrested yesterday by Superintendent of Streets Edward Dahl and brought before City Recorder Heathman.

Colonel Heathman fined the terrapin $10 for traveling over a closed street. Mr. Turtle could not pay his fine, so he was locked up in the office of Sanitary Engineer William Chandler.

Turtle did not like his confinement and at the first opportunity slipped out into the office of the city engineer.

He created quite a furore for awhile, but soon his presence was forgotten. Draughtsmen working in the engineer's office discovered later that the prisoner was A. W. O. L.

A search of all offices of the city hall failed to reveal the whereabouts of Bill Turtle, and several of the young women who work in the city hall offices were a bit restless.

Turtle is not of the snapping species, but those not accustomed to visits from terrapins said they felt a little "creepy."

CENSUS FIGURES ON FARMS GIVEN

The 6,448,366 farms in the United States on January 1, 1920, as reported at the Fourteenth census, were distributed among the various size groups as follows: Under 20 acres, 796,534; 20 to 49 acres, 1,503,734; 50 to 99 acres, 1,474,753; 100 to 174 acres, 1,449,659; 175 to 499 acres, 1,006,487; 500 to 999 acres, 149,812; and 1000 acres and over, 67,387. In 1910 the grouping of the 6,361,502 farms reported was: Under 20 acres, 839,166; 20 to 49 acres, 1,414,376; 50 to 99 acres, 1,438,909; 100 to 174 acres, 1,516,286; 175 to 499 acres, 978,175; 500 to 999 acres, 125,295; and 1000 acres and over, 50,135.

The increase in the total number of farms in the United States for the decade was 86,864. Farms under 20 acres decreased 42,632; farms of 20 to 49 acres increased 59,415; farms of 50 to 99 acres increased 28,812; and farms of 500 acres and over increased 41,769.

The percentages which the number of farms of each size group formed of the total number of farms were as follows: Under 20 acres, 12.4 per cent in 1920 and 13.2 per cent in 1910; 20 to 49 acres, 23.3 per cent and 22.2 per cent, respectively; 50 to 99 acres, 22.9 per cent and 22.6 per cent; 100 to 174 acres, 22.5 per cent and 23.8 per cent; 175 to 499 acres, 15.6 per cent and 15.4 per cent; 500 acres and over, 3.4 per cent in 1920 and 2.8 per cent in 1910.

Farms Under 50 Acres
The 796,534 farms under 50 acres, as reported for 1920, comprised 20, 350 farms under 3 acres in size, 268,422 farms from 3 to 9 acres, and 507,762 farms from 10 to 19 acres. A tract of land containing less than 3 acres was classified as a farm if it produced at least $250 worth of farm products in the year 1919 or 1920 or if it required for its agricultural operations the continuous services of at least one person.

More than six-tenths of the farms under 20 acres in size are in the southern states. The states showing the largest number of farms under 20 acres in size in 1920 were Mississippi, with 65,953; Kentucky, with 58,965; North Carolina, with 51,236; Tennessee, with 44,528; South Carolina, with 40,825; and Virginia, with 36,402.

Of the farms from 20 to 49 acres, likewise, a very large percentage (71.2 per cent in 1920) are found in the southern states. The states reporting the largest number of farms in this size group were Georgia, with 134,471; Mississippi, with 116,795; Alabama, with 112,848; Texas with 110,388; and Arkansas, with 92,438.

From 50 to 175 Acres
More than 45 per cent of all the farms in the United States are between 50 and 174 acres in size. This group contains, of course, those farms which consist of a quarter section of land or half of a quarter section. Between 1910 and 1920 there was an increase of 2.6 per cent in the number of farms of 50 to 99 acres and a decrease of 4.4 per cent in the number of farms of 100 to 174 acres.

The states having the largest number of farms of 50 acres and over in 1920 were Texas, with 23,977; North Dakota, with 22,386; Montana, with 17,604; South Dakota, with 16,667; and Kansas, with 16,301.

ORLAND GROWERS TO JOIN FRUIT EXCHANGE

ORLAND, Glenn Co., Aug. 24.—The Orland Citrus Association has decided to permanently affiliate with the California Fruit Growers' Exchange.

The local body consists only of those who are growing oranges on a commercial scale. The present membership is about thirty. At a special meeting Saturday evening, July 30th, a permanent organization was effected with J. E. Fallings elected President and E. J. Mole, secretary.

NEW POULTRY RECORD

TULARE.—The Tulare Co-operative Poultry association, at its monthly meeting here, reported that over $6000 worth of eggs had been sold for its members during the month, while $4000 worth of poultry had been sold, and $5000 of foods handled in the same period. This amount sets a new record for monthly business, it was said.

BARN DRAINAGE SYSTEM SAVES MUCH LABOR

Stalls Are Kept Clean, Collects Manure for Fertilization

A drainage system has been installed for several years on J. T. Raitt's dairy, South Bristol St., Santa Ana. There are some sixty cows being milked on this dairy and the method of drainage not only saves them the value of all the manure produced in the barn but at the same time saves labor in removing it and enables the owner to keep the barn very clean.

A similar system is in use on several other dairies of the county.

Grist Bros., milkers of some 35 cows, irrigate by pumping their water through cement pipe as the pumping plant is near the barn. They have the pipe line placed at the lower end of the dairy barn and gutters directly connected to irrigating pipe. Thus all that is necessary to do to clean the barn is to "hose everything down into pipe line." Then by closing the opening between the gutters and the irrigating pipe and starting the pump all the valuable material can be flushed out into the fields.

Mr. Andrew Moore, a dairyman near Wintersburg, also Main & Thompson, owners of a 200 cow dairy of Los Alamitos, both have this practical drainage system installed.

This system makes it possible to clean the barn, save labor, and get the value of manure all in one operation.

State Farm News

OAKDALE.—There are still 420 second feet of water at Goodwin dam and the irrigation season promises to be better in the Oakdale irrigation district than for five or six years. The Orange Blossom pumping plant has been started, adding to the water supply. This water supplies the town lateral and there is plenty of water at the bridge to run the plant to capacity. The 420 second feet at the dam must be divided between the two districts.

FOWLDER.—The heaviest shipments of green fruit ever known from this place are being made. For the past three or four days an average of 12 cars a day have been shipped up to last Saturday by S. P. Agent Burdick, and one assistant.

MODESTO.—Frank Spurrier, assistant state leader of agricultural clubs, has been in Stanislaus county for the past two days checking over the Holstein and Jersey calf clubs. He was taken over the county by County Agent A. A. Jungerman, visiting each member of both clubs and inspecting the animals and going over the personal accounts of the boys and girls.

FRESNO.—Many live stock entries are being listed for the same nearest date, September 26 for one week. Thirty entries of Berkshire hogs were received yesterday, according to Manager H. E. Patterson of the chamber of commerce. These were from the Italian vineyard at Los Angeles. Also entries will be made later from the Santa Catalina rancho at La Habra, Orange county.

DELANO.—About 100 interested growers of the Delano district have signed contracts with W. S. Broadus, experienced cantaloupe man of Turlock and Delano, covering 800 acres in this section for cantaloupe growing. This number is expected to be up to 1500 within a few days. Earl Mart and McFarland growers were present and it is possible they will come in and an association be formed. Growers who have successfully concluded their first year's experiment spoke enthusiastically of the future of the melons here.

OWENSMOUTH.—The worth of the Alfalfa Growers' association to members is being actually felt now, in that the growers here have received an order calling for 1000 tons of alfalfa each month for a New York consignment, which means that it will assist in cleaning up the surplus hay and allow for a better and more permanent market. The order is for standard hay, well baled, and is to be shipped by boat. The price is $30 f. o. b. New York, which means in the neighborhood of $16 to the grower.

COLOMA. El Dorado Co.—Despite adverse crop conditions last spring the two old Welmer peach trees on the Homer Metcalf farm have a full crop of fruit. These two trees were planted in 1850 by Peter Welmer, who was with James W. Marshall when he discovered gold at Coloma on January 24, 1848. The trees are now 71 years old, and have fruit for the year when the fruit on many of the young trees was killed by the heavy frosts in April.

FOLSOM. Sacramento Co.—The first shipment of several crates of Tokay grapes was made by the Earl Fruit company to Eastern markets this week. The grapes were grown in Orangeville. Two carloads of mixed fruit are being shipped daily from Folsom and have been for several weeks past.

MERIDAN. Sutter Co.—The harvesting of the barley crops in District 70 is over, and the farmers are now busy putting in their fall crops of beans, potatoes, etc.

CABINET MEMBER IN PEACH TESTING ROLE

Before Secretary of Agriculture Wallace took that big bite, the peach measured 14 inches in circumference and weighed two pounds. The freckle-faced lad exhibiting the peaches is Jot Watson, son of Senator Jim Watson. Joe defies any state to produce peaches larger, tastier or juicier than those grown in Indiana.

BUSY HONEY BEE IS AID TO ORCHARD

J. E. Pleasants, county bee inspector, has proclaimed for many years the advantages of placing colonies of bees in the fruit orchards of Orange county. He has proven to himself and many others by practical experiments that the bees help to pollinate the fruit, and at the same time produce honey of subtle flavor. There remain, nevertheless, some growers who as yet have not been made converts of the bee specialist.

For their benefit Pleasants calls attention to an article in the Western Honey Bee, August issue, which reads:

"Mr. A. E. Lusher, of Pomona, sends us an article from the Pomona Bulletin, in which he sets forth the remarkable results obtained by cranberry growers of Massachusetts, by placing colonies of bees close to their cranberry bogs, so that they might pollinate the flowers. The first experiments made by the United Cape Cod Cranberry company, which has some 700 acres of cranberries, which they intend to increase to 2000 acres, showed such a great increase in the yield of fruit that the company has employed an expert beekeeper to increase the number of colonies as rapidly as possible.

"In these experiments, it was very significant that the yield of berries was greatest on that portion of the bog nearest the bees, and was thinner and thinner as the distance from the bees increased. Every cranberry grower in the Cape Cod district is now making plans to go into the bee business, not for the profit from honey, but because it is now demonstrated that the cross-fertilization of the cranberry flowers by the bees will cause a greatly increased yield of cranberries, which are grown for the market.

"Fruit growers everywhere would make money by pursuing the same practice. It applies to all orchard fruits, grapes, oranges and lemons, and all other fruits produced here in California. The bees are the best aids to the fruit and berry growers. "In a note accompanying the clipping, Mr. Lusher points out the damage the orange growers are doing to their own industry by spraying the trees while they are in bloom with poisonous mixtures. Whole apiaries were rendered unfit for honey production in the Pomona district from the loss of field bees by poison. The orange men lost more than the bee men by their spraying while the bees were in bloom. Let the bees have free scope and the yield of fruit will be much increased."

ALMOND GROWERS OPEN ACTIVE WARFARE, WORD

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 24.—The opposition of New York and other eastern importers, foreign almond jobbers and candy manufacturers to the demands of California almond growers for a five and fifteen cent tariff on unshelled and shelled almonds has developed into open warfare, according to advices received here today by the California Almond Growers' Exchange.

The New York Journal of Commerce, in a recent article reveals the plan of attack being followed by these powerful eastern interests on the tariff claims of California's 4,000 almond farmers who are struggling for the existence of their industry. The New York paper's article discloses the false propaganda that is being spread by New York candy manufacturers and kindred interests to defeat the almond growers, who are now barred from the profitable American shelled almond market which has been for years controlled by the peasant almond growers of Southern Europe.

PUBLICATIONS ARE READY FOR FARMER

CITY WILL PAY ABOUT $1000 IN HAY FOR ITS BARN

Nearly All Hay Used Locally This Year Is Shipped In

ALFALFA MARKET

Prevailing Prices Found In Santa Ana Markets Are Quoted Here

It will cost the city of Santa Ana in the neighborhood of $1000 to supply hay enough to run the city barns between now and next summer.

Notice has been sent out by City Clerk Ed Vegely to the effect that the board of trustees will receive sealed bids up to 5 o'clock August 31, for furnishing the city with forty tons of barley hay and twenty tons of alfalfa hay.

Prices cited today by Santa Ana firms handling hay placed barley hay at $20, $23 and $25 a ton, alfalfa hay ranging from $20 to $25 and oat hay at about the same. Most of the hay grown locally this year was badly damaged and a great deal of it totally destroyed by late winds and rains this year. As a result the industry that once ranked among Orange county's greatest was practically reduced to a minimum this season.

The quality of the hay that has been shipped in has not been as good as it was last year, due principally to weather conditions at harvest time in other sections of the southland.

The Santa Ana supply of hay this year has been imported from Imperial valley, Riverside and Corona and some from farther north. Local firms said today that there would be no shortage this year.

In the weekly letter sent out by the Alfalfa Growers of California, incorporated, a co-operative establishment, the statement is made that the market for alfalfa hay showed but little change during the past week. Receipts in the terminal markets were again small, with prices well maintained.

"In most of the local marketing districts of the state," the letter states, "the demand and volume of business show further improvement with a widening difference in prices above those of the central markets, amounting now in some localities to as much as $5 a ton above the present parity of the respective central market."

According to figures given, there were 780 tons of grain and alfalfa hay received on the Los Angeles tracks the week ending August 20, with 310 tons held over. Prevailing prices last week in Los Angeles were: No. 1 dairy $19 and standard alfalfa $15.

WILL DEMONSTRATE CANNING METHODS

Free demonstration of fruit and vegetable canning will be given in the domestic science room of the Garden Grove grammar school, at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon, August 26, the Farm Bureau announced.

Professor G. E. Parker and Mrs. Morrow will be in charge. Housewives and other interested women are invited to attend and to bring their own material if they so desire. The demonstrators will can the produce for them.

AUCTION IDEA POPULAR
MADDOCK, Sutter Co.—Several of the Sacramento valley counties are following Sutter county's lead in preparing to hold hog auction sales this year. A Sutter county sale will be held October 13. Sales also will be held in Yolo, Butte, Glenn and Tehama counties. The plan of selling hogs at auction has proven very successful in the San Joaquin valley.

When You Buy Bonds You Want to Know---

1---Will They Be Paid When Due?

For this information you must depend largely upon your banker or broker, who should be familiar with the security which you are considering. We offer for sale securities in which we have invested our own money.

2---What Is the Interest Yield?

The selling price influences the yield. If the rate is unusually high or the price is unusually low, it may be that competitive conditions in the money market do not govern, and that the risk is large.

3---Are They Marketable?

A man's experience in business will seldom buy securities which he must carry to maturity because there is no market for them. He wants to be sure that he can sell them at any time at a fair price.

4---Are They Good Collateral?

Will your bank accept them as security if you want to borrow? Banks cannot afford to loan money on unsalable securities.

In considering investments, you are cordially invited to make use of all the facilities of our well equipped and conveniently located Bond Department.

PALMER THINKS LATE MARKET BE STRONG

"With approximately 5000 cars of the state's Valencia crop still to move, indications are favorable for the strong late market," said L. D. Palmer, manager of the Orange County Fruit exchange.

"These 5000 cars, if properly distributed through the remaining shipping period, which will be until about the middle of November, should insure a steady and favorable market."

Palmer for some time has been urging growers not to crowd the market, but to permit a systematic distribution of the remaining crop over the marketing period.

"There is every reason to believe," said Palmer, "that we will have a strong wind-up if we are not crowded by the anxiety of the growers to clean up their remaining crop. We need a chance to handle the remainder of the crop carefully."

"August and September are the heaviest deciduous months and when too many oranges come in competition with these fruits, a dragging market condition is the result. This was illustrated by the strong market of several weeks ago which was due to light shipments. This attractive market started a rush of shipments that soon hammered down the market."

"Although considerable drop has been caused by the Tortrix worm, this seems to be practically over and removes a condition which has influenced some growers to rush shipments. With the small quantity of fruit remaining, it would seem advisable for growers to hold back."

On August 1 it was estimated that there were only about 7500 cars yet to go. Some 2500 cars have been moved so far during the month. With 2500 to 3000 cars moving in September, it is believed that by October 1 there will be only 1500 to 2000 cars left.

DUNDEE WINNER IN BATTLE WITH ERTLE

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 24.—Jimmy Dundee of Oakland, won a fast fight from his fellow citizen, Bobby Ertle, at Vernon last night. Dundee took the first, third and fourth rounds, but Ertle took the second in whirlwind fashion and by such a wide margin that his chances for at least a draw seemed good at that stage of the fight.

Dick Donnelly held Young Ketchell to a draw in the semi-windup, his aggressiveness off-setting Ketchell's more finished brand of battling.

Ad. Rubikoux, Riverside's fast little bantam, took a well-earned decision from Ted Frenchie in one of the best fights of the evening. Kid Rubio of San Bernardino, lost to Herb Ryan.

Other results: Mike Doll-Johnnie Cline, draw; Johnnie Sirios-Jack Brooks, draw; Johnny Woodruff, Young Cumpston, draw.

DEAL FOR PORTLAND TEAM FALLS THROUGH

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 24.—W. A. Rourke, Omaha baseball magnate, said today he was going home without buying the Portland Coast league club.

Rourke made a "top offer" to Judge McCredie, owner, a few days ago. McCredie came back with a counter proposition which he could not consider, and so there will be no deal.

Brown & Bowles, Studebaker dealers, is a safe place to buy a used car.

ANOTHER INSPECTOR NOT SOUGHT NOW

That an added inspector for Orange county dairies at this time would mean an extravagant overlapping of duties, is the opinion of the directors of the dairy department of the Orange County Farm bureau.

At the present time Los Angeles city has two inspectors in the field who cover two-thirds of the dairies in Orange county, which dairies supply Los Angeles with milk.

The other third which supply the local trade and creameries are amply inspected by state men who get around about twice a year.

Besides the inspectors, who report on the grading of milk, and the general sanitary condition of the dairies, the Farm Bureau maintains a milk tester who operates in most of the large dairies of the country.

It has been suggested that the various inspectors could be consolidated into one office in order to do away with unnecessary overlapping of city county and state inspectors. This would be the recommendation of the dairy department to the county board of supervisors. That the sum of $3000 should be saved to the county during this period of retrenchment and an effort made by the supervisors to get joint funds from the city of Los Angeles, state and county to maintain a systematic inspection service which would not overlap, is the concerted expression of the dairy interests of Orange county, according to a statement from the Farm Bureau office today.

PHILLIES BLANK CUBS

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 24.—Cy Williams duplicated his feat of Monday by driving the ball over the right field wall for a home run yesterday, giving Philadelphia a 1-0 victory over Chicago. The contest gave Philadelphia the series.

RUTH 18 DAYS AHEAD ON HOMER SCHEDULE

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—Babe Ruth earned the right to loaf for eighteen days. By driving out two home runs yesterday he puts himself eighteen days ahead of his home run record of 1920. Playing with the Yanks at Cleveland, Babe acquired his 47th and 48th.

FANS ON EDGE OVER TRIBBY-MEXICO BOUT

Unless Bert Tribby, once known as the Santa Barbara mauler, shows more class than he has in his past few fights, he is due for a terrible licking out at Boyd Ellis' Delhi arena tonight. That was the consensus of opinion on the part of Santa Ana bugs today.

Tribby is matched with Kid Mexico of Huntington Beach in the main tilt and this baby Mexico is capable of meeting the best of them. He has drawn to his credit with Steve Dalton and Young George all within the past month. Tribby on the other hand suffered a defeat at the hands of Johnny Meyers last week.

The Santa Barbara boy has a mean punch, but that about lets him out. If he has to battle a man who can take his blows and returns a punch for every one received Tribby seems lost.

The other affairs should be corkers. Young Dudley and Soly Trujillo are set for their go and Jimmy Smith of Santa Ana is prepared to give Joe Chaney of Whittier a wild and wooly session. The milling should be fast in this bout.

Ellis announced today that the curtain raiser would be announced from the ring tonight.

BRAVES OUTHIT BUT DEFEAT PITTSBURGH

BOSTON, Aug. 24.—Boston hit Glazner hard enough in the first three innings to defeat Pittsburgh, 4 to 3.

Pittsburgh 3 13 0
Boston 4 10 0
Pittsburgh—Glazner, Carlson and Schmidt; Boston—Watson and O'Neill.

CARDS DEFEAT GIANTS

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—St. Louis made it three out of four from New York by winning their last game of the season here, 10 to 7. Kelly made his twenty-first home run of the season.

St. Louis 10 15 0
New York 7 13 2
St. Louis—Haines, Sherdell and Clemens; New York—Barnes, Sallee and Smith, Snyder.

REDS TRIM DODGERS

BROOKLYN, Aug. 24.—Cincinnati took its last game of the season in Brooklyn yesterday, 7 to 2, in ten innings. Mitchell and Donohue were equally effective until the tenth, when the Brooklyn pitcher went to pieces after Umpire Klem reversed a decision on a close play at third. Griffith's home run in the seventh tied the score for Brooklyn.

Cincinnati 7 11 3
Brooklyn 2 8 2
Cincinnati—Donohue and Hargrave; Brooklyn—Mitchell and Miller.

PHILLIES BLANK CUBS

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 24.—Cy Williams duplicated his feat of Monday by driving the ball over the right field wall for a home run yesterday, giving Philadelphia a 1-0 victory over Chicago. The contest gave Philadelphia the series.

RUTH 18 DAYS AHEAD ON HOMER SCHEDULE

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—Babe Ruth earned the right to loaf for eighteen days. By driving out two home runs yesterday he puts himself eighteen days ahead of his home run record of 1920. Playing with the Yanks at Cleveland, Babe acquired his 47th and 48th.

AUTO TRADES MEN TO SEE 15 ROUND FIGHT

Herbert Davis, secretary of the Orange County Automobile Trades association, today received advices from San Diego that an added feature in the form of a fifteen-round boxing match will augment the festa at Tia Juana on Sunday, the second day of the annual high jinks of the trades association of San Diego.

Jake Stahl, of San Diego, and Joe Brown of Vernon, both fast lightweights, have been signed. The fighters have met twice in four round bouts, both of which have been draws. In addition to this feature and a free barbecue there will be a bull fight in Old Town.

The high jinks start Saturday with a big parade in the forenoon and a smoker at night. It is expected that a large number of Orange county tradesmen will be present as invitations and tickets have been given each member.

NINTH FRAME RALLY WINS FOR SEATTLE

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 24.—Seattle came from behind in the ninth inning yesterday by scoring four runs on as many hits and defeated Vernon 9 to 6 in the opening game of the series.

Seattle 9 14 1
Vernon 6 13 4
Seattle—Francis, Dalley and Spencer; Vernon—Schellenback, McGraw, Faeth and Hannah, Murphy.

BEES NOSE OUT ANGELS

SALT LAKE, Aug. 24.—After Los Angeles had been given a six-run lead in the first inning on errors the Bees gradually cut down the lead and won in the ninth inning, 8 to 7. Leverenz pitched excellent ball and his mates put on a powerful offensive with the bat.

Los Angeles 7 3 0
Salt Lake 8 15 6
Los Angeles—Thomas, Dumovich,

Crandall and Stange, Baldwin; Salt Lake—Leverenz and Edwards.

SOLONS TRIM SEALS

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 24.—Sacramento took the opening game from San Francisco 4 to 1 in two bad innings for Johnny Couch. Timely hitting coupled with clever base running was responsible for the defeat of the league leaders in the fast game.

San Francisco 1 7 2
Sacramento 4 8 0
San Francisco—Couch, Lewis and Yelle; Sacramento—Prough and Cook.

OAKS TRIM PORTLAND

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 24.—Ten innings were required for Oakland to defeat Portland yesterday 3 to 2. Oakland had a two-run lead until the eighth when Portland tied the score on a base on balls, a single, a double and a second single.

Portland 2 12 2
Oakland 3 9 1
Portland—Johnson, Plummer and King; Oakland—Alten and Koshier.

RUTH'S BAT DEFEATS CLEVELAND INDIANS

CLEVELAND, Aug. 24.—New York yesterday cut Cleveland's lead in the American league standing to 1 point by defeating the Indians, 6 to 1, in the first of a three-game series. The local's score was the result of Smith's home run over the right field fence.

Ruth hit his forty-seventh and forty-eighth home runs of the season, in each instance driving in a runner ahead of him. The Yankees drove Caldwell from the box in three innings, but failed to do much with Mails or Morton. It was off Caldwell that Ruth made his two home runs.

New York 6 7 1
Cleveland 1 5 3
New York—Quinn and Schang; Cleveland—Caldwell, Mails, Morton and O'Neill.

"COUNTY FAIR" IS COMICAL AFFAIR

GARDEN GROVE, Aug. 24.—The Baptist Young People's union of the Baptist church enjoyed a "County Fair" social at the home of Mrs. Dessa Emerson last Wednesday evening. The guests dressed in the Emersons' attire arrived at the "Emerson Fair grounds" at 8 o'clock and enjoyed in true hinterland fashion the interesting exhibits.

Besides the fat women, the Siamese twins, the homeliest creature in captivity, the giant, and Miss Tiny Little, the fair afforded a swing, see-saw, crazy house and picture show for entertaining.

A portion of the evening was spent in contests and games after which ice cream cones and lollipop were served from the ice cream stand. The guests numbered about sixty.

The Garden Grove Chamber of Commerce has accepted the invitation of the manager of the Hotel Whitcomb in San Francisco to display their publicity matter on the California booster rack maintained in that hotel.

Plan for Banquet
The Garden Grove Chamber of Commerce is making plans for the banquet and get-together meeting to be held the second Monday in September at the Garden Grove hotel.

The Beta Sigma class of the M. E. Sunday school and teacher, Mrs. George Rayburn, will motor to the Orange County park Tuesday evening and have a picnic supper.

The Rev. W. M. Harkness, of the M. E. church, had charge of the union services held at the Free Methodist church Sunday evening.

Death of Mrs. Turner
Sad news was received here last week by Mrs. my Graves telling of the death of Mrs. Julia K. Turner, Sunday, August 14, at Orly, S. D.

Mrs. Turner made her home with Mrs. Graves for three months last winter, and during her stay here made many friends.

Personal Notes
C. B. King, of Los Angeles, visited at the home of his brother, Vernon King, and family, the first of the week.

Howard Faber and Homer Ames motored to Hinkley last week to visit with their sister, Mrs. Alma Johnson. They returned home Monday.

The Rev. J. B. Thomas, of Escondido, spent the week-end with his daughter, Mrs. George Tyler, and family.

Miss Norma Larson returned home Tuesday from Los Angeles, where she enjoyed a week's visit with friends. She was accompanied home by Miss Gretchen Larson, who will spend a few days here.

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Elliott entertained the following relatives at dinner Thursday evening:

Mr. and Mrs. John Ambrose and two children and Miss Gertrude Ambrose, of Fresno; Mrs. Charles Ward, of Huntington Beach, and Mrs. Mamie Harris, of Long Beach.

Miss Marion Magnusson went to Los Angeles Tuesday for a few days' visit with friends.

Miss Ethlyn Lee returned from Santa Barbara Wednesday after a three weeks' visit with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Oerly returned from Long Beach Thursday, where they spent a couple of days.

Miss Gertrude German has accepted a position in the art department of the Toy shop in Santa Ana, and began her duties Monday.

Misses Mettie and Leila Chaffee and Mrs. Belle Helm and daughters, Marion and Reta, returned Thursday from Laguna, where they passed a couple of days.

Irvine German and family are enjoying a week's vacation in the canyon beyond Orange county park.

The Rev. O. W. Reinius, former pastor of the M. E. church, accompanied by his wife, arrived here last Thursday from Brawley, for a visit with old friends.

E. R. Schneider made a business trip to Los Angeles Monday.

IRVINE

IRVINE, Aug. 24.—Miss Ruth Knowlton of Fullerton, visited in Irvine Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Miss Adelaide Spencer is spending a few weeks in Long Beach.

Mrs. Watrous and family spent Sunday in Orange.

Mrs. Martha Ortega and daughters, Juanita and Marguerite, attended the Peace Pipe pageant at Laguna Beach on the opening night.

Mr. and Mrs. Earle Marshall and sons, Charles and Kenneth, motored to Laguna Beach Friday evening.

Miss Marguerite Smith and Miss Lulu Ross, spent the week at Big Bear lake.

Jess Peters of Ore Grande is spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Ira Peters.

J. C. Jacob and Carl Tomsen, of Lancaster, and Mr. and Mrs. F. Warner of Santa Ana, visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Ahern and family Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Spencer were charming host and hostess at a card party at their home here Saturday evening. Progressive "500" was the delightful entertainment for the evening.

Mrs. William Whitehead won the ladies' first prize and W. A. Cornelius won the men's first prize.

Dainty refreshments of ice cream, cake and coffee were served at a late hour by the hostess.

Those who enjoyed the evening were:

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Trickey, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Jessup, Mr. and Mrs. Harkleroad, Mrs. Ida King, Dave Richards, Mr. Ross, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Cornelius of Santa Ana, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Parker of Tustin, W. R. Dross and the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Spencer.

"THE BIGGEST LITTLE COUNTY ON EARTH"

OLIVE SCHOOL TO IMPROVE GROUNDS

OLIVE, Aug. 24.—The Olive school district is planning to improve the school grounds with landscape gardening, construction of cement walks and a retaining wall at a total estimated expense of about $2500. The school board has called for bids on the proposed work, which will be opened September 2.

Contractors interested are advised to get into communication with K. V. Wolff, secretary of the board, at the First National Bank, Olive.

TALBERT

TALBERT, Aug. 24.—Mrs. A. F. Swift attended on Friday the bi-yearly district meeting of District No. 5 of the Rebekahs, which was held at Anaheim and of which she is the district deputy. The meeting was a most enjoyable one and the Acacia lodge, of Huntington Beach, of which Mrs. Swift is a member, won the silver cup for the largest attendance with forty-six members present.

Perry Wells and family moved the first of the week to Santa Ana. The home here has been let to a Mr. Weaver and family of Tustin.

Several of the local beet dumps were closed two days this week while a clean-up was being made at the Holly sugar factory. Shipping was resumed again on Wednesday.

Ranchers hauling to the dump stopped plowing out Saturday for this period.

Mrs. S. E. Talbert motored to Long Beach Friday, bringing home her mother, Mrs. M. L. Thurman, who has been away on a two weeks' visit with relatives.

Mrs. Harold Swift and small daughter, Gwendolyn, attended a pretty social affair given Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Urban Plavan at Huntington Beach, formerly of this place. The occasion was given in honor of a cousin, Miss Alice Planchon, who returns Monday to her home in Missouri after an extended visit with relatives here. The guests included the brides of Ernest Plavan of Riverside, Leona Plavan of Orange, and Clyde Plavan of Greenville; Miss Grace Malan of Los Angeles, Miss Irene Jacques of Garden Grove, Mrs. P. B. Plavan and the Misses Edith and Wilma Plavan, of Santa Ana, Mrs. Swift and daughter of this place, and the honoree, Miss Planchon. All of the entire party have resided at Talbert at some time.

VILLA PARK

VILLA PARK, Aug. 24.—Friday evening a party of young people enjoyed a steak bake at the Orange County Park. Those in the party were:

Miss I. M. Clark of Anaheim, George Carraker of Orange, Miss and Mr. and Mrs. Linn O. Hanselman.

Miss Wanda Amie, of Long Beach, came up Saturday to spend a week with Mrs. Elma Lee and Miss Elizabeth Lee.

Miss Rachel Stein, of Los Angeles, is down spending her vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Stein.

Mr. and Mrs. George E. Holditch, of Anaheim, spent Sunday at the home of Mrs. Ellen Holditch. When they returned to Anaheim Gwendolyn Holditch went with them and came home Monday morning.

FASHIONS

Twenty imported hats were auctioned off for $1700 at the retail milliners' fall show in New York. Here is one of them. It is worth $85; it is a draped turban of silver-gray metallic satin with a black aigrette upstanding in front. While there is a suggestion of the eastern potentate's turban, the breadth of the hat and the manner of draping makes it more Parisian than Persian.

BELOVED YOUNG WOMAN LAID TO REST

WESTMINSTER, Aug. 24.—The many friends of Miss Marguerite Wright, aged 19, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George M. Wright, now of Bolso, are saddened to learn of her death Monday morning at 3 a. m. at Tejunza, where she was staying in the hope of benefiting her health, which had been failing for about six months. Until recently hope was held out for her recovery, but about a week before her death she was taken much worse.

The deepest sympathy of this community, where most of her life was spent, are with the bereaved family.

The funeral was held at the Smith and Tutbill undertaking parlors this morning at 10 o'clock, the Rev. Mr. Wardell officiating. Interment was at Fairhaven.

Chicken Thieves Busy
Thieves who took twenty-five Plymouth Rock pullets about a month ago from the ranch of James Kerr, returned for the rest of them Sunday night, it is thought, but failed to get them on account of a lock having been put on in the meantime. There were about fifty in the bunch and the roosters were left. There were evidences Monday morning of some one having been around.

The thieves must be partial to the Plymouth Rock breed, it is said here, as it was only a week ago that H. B. Anderson lost sixty-eight young roosters and pullets of that variety.

Carleton Crane Dead
A telegram received Monday from Suisun to Willis Warner conveyed the sad news of the death of Mrs. Warner's brother, Carleton Crane, of Suisun. No particulars were given. He was formerly a resident of Smetzer.

Mrs. Morton Wakefield, of Lompoc, and son, Elwyn, recently from Nevada, called Saturday afternoon at the home of her cousin, Mrs. Adeline Blakey. They have been visiting in Long Beach.

Talks On "China"
The Rev. E. D. Chapin gave a very interesting address on "China" Sunday morning at the Presbyterian church. He and his wife came down from Glendale in company with her brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Bruner and were dinner guests at the home of O. B. Byram, an old friend of Mr. Chapin's.

Mr. and Mrs. Chaupin were hoping to return to their mission work in China soon, but were advised by a physician to remain in this country for another year.

Matt Worley, of Redlands, called Sunday afternoon at the home of his cousin, Miss Leora Blakey. He was accompanied by his nephew, George Fullbright and wife and daughter, Vada. The party were on their way from San Diego, where they spent the night before, returning to Redlands.

UP-STATE NEWS

OROVILLE.—Complying with a law passed at the last session of the legislature, first aid kits have been placed in the cabs of all Western Pacific locomotives. These kits are located in a protected box having a glass front and can only be gotten out by breaking the glass and so releasing the bolt holding the kit. Section 3 of the law requires that a report be made when a kit has been opened and the contents used.

GRASS VALLEY—The safe, vault door and other equipment of the old Citizens bank here, which liquidated several months ago, were loaded on trucks yesterday for transportation to Upper Lake, Lake county. Purchase of the material by a group of men about to install a bank at Upper Lake is announced.

MARYSVILLE—Dr. Hajani Kanta Das, special agent of the United States bureau of labor statistics, is in Yuba and Sutter counties conducting an investigation of working and living conditions of Hindu laborers. The treatment of Hindus by American citizens also is a subject of study by the official.

ORLAND—The $20,000 bond issue for the auxiliary pumping plant will be purchased and installed at once. The plant will include an oil burning engine capable of running the pumps now run by electricity, and will furnish a larger flow of water than is possible with the present outfit. The pumping cost will be materially lessened by the new outfit.

SAN JOSE—Contracts for an entire new lighting system for the San Jose postoffice have been let and the work of wiring will start immediately. At present drop lights are in use, but the new system will be that of case lighting, to facilitate and aid the vision of the workers.

ANNUAL FIG DAY PLANNED AT MADERA
MADERA, Aug. 24.—The Madera county chamber of commerce is planning to secure the institution of an annual fig day for Madera county, to correspond to Fresno's Raisin day, Tulare's Watermelon day, and Petaluma's Egg day.

The large amount of land in the county adapted to the growing of figs has led to the setting out in recent years of a very large acreage of the fruit, and the fig industry promises to become shortly one of the most important of the county.

The chamber of commerce will cooperate with the fig growers in arranging for the celebration of the first fig day. The time for this event has not yet been set.

FAMILY REUNIONS OF PIONEER FAMILY

LA HABRA, Aug. 24.—Of much interest to old timers was the family reunion, held at Ganesha park, Pomona, on Sunday, by the Warner brothers. The senior Warnes were pioneer residents of the valley, having lived for several years on what is now the Sargent Brothers citrus ranch. The ranch was then set to delicious fruit, and the old ranch house still stands on the place.

There were seven brothers and their families who picnicked under the trees at the park. These were: C. E. and R. B. Warner and wives, of La Habra; S. C. Warner and family of Pomona; J. E. Warner and family of Charter Oak; Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Warner of Moorpark; Mr. and Mrs. T. T. Warner and Mrs. Warner's mother, Mrs. Anna Gould of Whittier; and two of the younger generation, Chas. Warner and family of Moorpark and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Handy of Van Nuys.

The two other brothers, M. Warner, who lives at Pasadena, and A. B. Warner, of Whittier, were not present.

There were twenty-six who sat at the well-laden table and enjoyed the good things provided by the "women folks."

HARPERVILLE

HARPERVILLE, Aug. 24.—Herman Christensen and family are living temporarily on their ranch at Harperville. They and the three children have come from Long Beach, their home, and will live temporarily in the house that stands on their orange grove. Christensen is irrigating the orange grove and the children are having a great play time and enjoying their outing.

The Rev. H. B. Spayd and wife entertained in honor of their daughter's birthday last Wednesday evening.

The daughter, Mary Spayd, who has been teaching in San Diego for about two years or longer, came home with her father a few days ago and the occasion of her birthday was celebrated by a fine dinner attended by a few nearby friends. The dinner was a delight and the fellowship a happy one.

Dr. Spayd is still preaching for the Alamos Friends' church. The church has as yet not succeeded in obtaining a pastor and meantime the doctor is preaching to the delight of all the congregation and friends.

Frederick Hannum, who had come from Calexico to visit with his daughter, Mrs. Rollin R. Rossetto, spent a few weeks back at the old place of business and returned a few days ago. He reports the great Imperial valley as being prosperous and happy, but a good part of the time exceptionally warm.

FIRST HONEYDEW MELONS ARE SHIPPED
SACRAMENTO, Aug. 24.—The first car of honeydew melons left the Sutter Basin district this week. This is according to Production Manager R. G. Rissler of the California Vegetable Union, which agency is marketing the melons.

The expected production this year is approximately forty cars. There are about thirty-five acres in the district devoted to honeydew melons.

Colorado melons will come into the market in a week or so, but the Sutter Basin melons will be the earliest in, which is expected to secure for them the best kind of a market welcome.

MOUNTAIN VEGETABLES ARE OF FINE QUALITY
MAKIPPOSA, Aug. 24.—The mountain vegetables are now at their very best. The potato crop, always late, owing to the difference of season in the high altitudes is now being dug. The crop of the Bruener and Worman ranches is particularly heavy this year. The Brown and Bronsart ranches have now excellent beans and tomatoes on the market, while the Sell ranch is specializing on corn this year. All the produce will be disposed of locally.

PHILIPPINE INDEPENDENCE

A keen newspaper observer who has been in the Philippines simultaneously with the official Wood-Forbes party, but making his own separate and unofficial inquiry, concludes that the Filipinos are fit for independence, but that they ought not to be independent. These conclusions are not necessarily contradictory.

There is probably little question that the Filipinos are as capable of governing themselves as any one of half a dozen small nations in various quarters of the world that might be mentioned. They have been practically autonomous for eight years. They have their own congress and courts, and their legislation and administration of justice are said not to fall very far short of American standards. There is little or no pauperism in the islands. Nearly all of the people own their own homes. More surprising still, the big majority of them are literate. They respect the law. There are defects in sanitation and in other important respects, but they are improving.

If all this is true, it does not necessarily follow that the islands and islanders should be turned loose to shift for themselves at this time. As long as the world is unsettled, and there is a possibility of aggressive and ambitious nations resorting to force for self-aggrandizement, no small nation is safe, particularly one in an exposed position and unaccustomed to standing alone. Philippine independence, to which the United States is pledged when the time shall be ripe, can well be postponed and the islands kept under their present easy yoke until there is more assurance of peace and security.

When the time comes, however, it is felt that the Filipinos themselves, who according to American principles have a right to choose, will recognize that their highest opportunity lies in casting their lot permanently with America. However they might prosper alone, they are likely to prosper more as a part of the American Union, if the United States is willing to have them in that capacity.

PRICES AND PROSPERITY

One of the big banking concerns of the country sees indications of returning prosperity, and sees them in advancing prices. The price rise is mainly in the wholesale world, and has been noted in Japan and Great Britain for the past month or two, showing that the turn of the tide is general.

The poor commoner who knows little of finance has pinned his faith rigidly to descending prices. To him the idea of returning prosperity being indicated by a price rise is a polite invitation to believe that black is white. But none the less it is true.

The hope comes in right here—wholesale dealers no longer are forced to keep cutting prices in order to move their stocks. Purchasers enough have appeared to keep business moving, and to deplete stocks sufficiently so that the buyer is willing to pay a little more to insure a supply of the commodity he wants. This means that somewhere in the retail world there is a stirring, and also that money is freer, so that necessary payments can be met. People are getting over their scare.

When business moves, that means employment, and that in turn increased purchasing power, and so the big wheel begins to move.

Education is a pretty good lever if you want to pry success out of the future.

ENGLISH TO BE SPOKEN

France is reported to be surprised and hurt by the news that only English will be admitted as the official language of the disarmament conference. Ever since Latin ceased to be the universal language of educated men, French has held that proud place, particularly in diplomacy.

It was felt to be a big concession when, at the Versailles peace conference, English was admitted as equally "official." At that conference all the speeches made in either language were interpreted in the other, and the official records and documents were printed in both. Now, if French is to be displaced entirely at the Washington conference, the French feel that it is a deadly blow to their national culture and prestige and a blunt warning from the Anglo-Saxons that they expect to dominate the world hereafter in language as in everything else of importance.

Another reason for dissatisfaction is the fact that most of the French statesmen who will attend the conference do not speak any language but their own.

The administration at Washington may have no such intention or desire. If it has really planned a one-language conference, it would surely not be amiss to reconsider the matter, in order to avoid giving offense to so good a friend as France and thereby hindering the prospects of success. No doubt the time is coming when English will be considered the only language worth while, without any violent hastening of the process.

FOOD FATAL TO SOVIETISM

The Russian Reds and their American friends are quite right in thinking that American relief of the Russian famine will threaten the existence of the Soviet government.

Neither Herbert Hoover's relief administration nor any other organization, private or public, can carry food to the starving Russians without wakening them up to the fact that other nations are their friends. Though the philanthropic intruders say never a word of politics or economics, their actions will be eloquent. The Russian masses will find out that capitalistic countries are prosperous and kind-hearted, and that the "conspiracy" of the underworld against their own country was a myth invented by Lenin and his fellow-oppressors.

With food will come light. News from beyond the border, information of what is going on in the world, what free nations are doing and thinking, will inevitably spread along with the rations. And when light enters darkest Russia, good-by to the Soviet government!

There is only one way in which it can continue, under such circumstances. That is by ceasing to be Soviet. And Lenin is engaged right now in trying to make a safe transition.

The worst of it is, from Lenin's standpoint, that it wouldn't do any good to let those hungry millions starve, because famine and pestilence, if not relieved, would fill Moscow with counter-revolution and unsettle him and his crowd. As between the deep sea of famine and the foreign devil of charity he prefers, to take his chance with the latter, however slim the chance may be.

REMARKABLE RESULTS

No more convincing illustration of the efficiency of newspaper advertising has been presented than the experience of the Literary Digest, declares the Fourth Estate. Five years ago when the magazine had 350,000 circulation the directors decided that a larger circulation was desirable and that the only way to get it was through advertising. For four years $1,000,000 was invested annually in 400 leading newspapers in the United States with the result that today the magazine has a circulation of 1,300,000, and its income has been increased more than 360 per cent.

Would it have been possible for the Literary Digest to secure such returns from any other medium? We believe not. Newspaper advertising presents its message when people are in a receptive mood. Appearing as it does in a medium that is welcomed and read in practically every household it is bound to attract the attention of masses of people, and if the article advertised possesses real merit, large sales are sure to follow.

Improve Legal Procedure

Oakland Tribune
There is more or less tendency to do something to speed up and otherwise improve legal procedure. There have been so many notable instances of late emphasizing the palpable lack in effective adjudication of the exigencies that arise that the attention of the better judiciary is engaged in consideration of ways to effect improvements.

We see what is being attempted in San Francisco, which concerns Judges. A movement is going forward in New York with juries for its objective. Much of the miscarriage of justice there is attributed to the exemption from jury duty of a large division of the public, embracing the best citizens.

Sixteen classes are thus exempted, including all the professions excepting some branches of engineering. It is proposed to greatly modify this, and to amend the law so that nine jurors may render a verdict—which latter is not a new idea but seemingly difficult to put in force.

China Lacks Influence

Long Beach Press
There are some measurements, conceptions and standards of relations among nations and of influences exerted in international relations that are not as they should be. But the world being as it is, it is the part of wisdom to recognize the fact that it is as it is. China has accepted formally America's invitation to participate in the forthcoming conference on disarmament and Pacific and Far East problems. China's part in the conference, however, will be limited. That ancient land will not be a major power or influence in the conference. It is not a major power or influence in world affairs. And for reasons which do not reflect upon the moral quality of China—its government and its people and their ideals—but, rather, the reflection is upon the world itself other than China.

To be a peace-loving, inoffensive, non-military nation, as China is, should be an element of glory and greatness. But the hard-boiled truth must be recognized and admitted that, with conditions and conceptions and standards as they have been and as they are at present throughout the world, China, without military spirit and without great armament, could not be and can not be potent in world affairs, but, on the contrary, is weak in influence and is impotent against aggressions. She must rely upon the idealism and sense of justice of great powers like the United States, to stretch forth strong arms to preserve the territorial integrity of China and the "open door" there.

This is not to argue that China should become a great military power. But it is to argue that the world should gravitate toward permanent peace with justice so that any country, peace-loving and non-military as China is, may live in safety and exert potent influence even though without huge armaments.

Success Is Pronounced

Pasadena Star-News
Mr. Harding assumed the Presidency under conditions which were — and still are — exceedingly delicate and complicated. He came to that high office under many handicaps. For one thing, his overwhelming political victory was, and is, hampering to him. But in the brief period that he has occupied the White House, Mr. Harding, in co-operation with Congress has brought much important work, either to consummation or near thereto. Congress at last has agreed upon a form of resolution restoring peace, officially, between this country and the Central Powers. This long delayed act accomplished, the way is clear for the definite casting of terms of peace and for formal projecting of an association of nations upon principles and terms acceptable to the United States.

A permanent tariff measure has been drafted and is before Congress. The tariff measure, as a matter of course, does not please all of the people. No tariff act that possibly could be framed would please all. But there are good points in the bill pending which will commend it to the country.

Appropriation bills have been passed, and while there is dissatisfaction with the form of some of these—particularly the army and navy bills—yet they are not dragging along unacted.

President Harding deserves commendation for putting the budget system into effect immediately, thus demonstrating his sincerity in attempting to redeem his platform and campaign pledges.

All in all, the administration is getting a good start and President Harding has gotten along reasonably well in bringing to or toward fulfillment that which he promised the country.

WONDER

"The man who cannot wonder, who does not habitually wonder," says Carlyle, "is but a pair of spectacles, behind which there is no eye."

What would we do if we couldn't wonder, and wonder—and wonder? To look into the face of a flower and hear its silence, to look up to the stars and know that they have much to say, to handle a lovely book and know that though the author may have been ashes for a hundred or a thousand years, he still is flesh and blood—how wonderful that we may wonder!

I looked into the face of a little baby tonight. I could do nothing before it but wonder—for it could not say a word. And out from its jeweled eyes I am sure that it wondered as it looked at me.

We spend our forces, we get tired—we walk through long lanes of loneliness—we wonder in the midst of a thousand ways.

We walk through great woods, and there is something about the endless silence and aroma of the bark and leaves and the decaying carpet over which we walk that makes us wonder and speculate. And what a thrill we get!

Who has stood on a high hill or mountain and looked far and not stopped to wonder about all that stood within the area of the eye?

Not long ago I walked through a magnificent gorge. Great solid formations towered hundreds of feet on either side of me, while a rushing stream jumped and hurled over rocks and rushed its way at the base of these wonderful natural monuments. I wondered and wondered. What a gigantic force had wiped this path so clean?

You can't look at the smallest bug without wondering—if you are intelligent.

But one of the greatest wonders of all is the brain you carry around in your head. In this brain is a thing called your will. Your brain tells you something to do—but it is your will that makes you do it. How wonderful! The more you wonder, the more you understand.

The Velvet Hammer

BY A. B. B.

The court we call superior in this, a super state, does not assume to settle petty personal debate. It handles heavy cases in a large and legal mood, on which no free frivolity may properly intrude. It always has a list of giant problems to be solved, with lots of lovely money; very sacredly involved.

Judge Williams is the umpire in this court of size and class, and listens to the wise remarks which lawyers love to pass. He harkens while attorneys make their loudly shouted spiel, then calmly gives to either side a square and quiet deal. He guides the erring juvenile who has an open ear and shows him where the laws of life are practical and clear.

Like Cincinnati, when he's full of public life and power, he needs a ranch upon the side to spend a quiet hour. He raises crops of juicy fruit from trees of cooling shade for others through their home grown straws to take as lemonade. For forty years he's seen the county in its up and downs, and much he's done in many lines to help both farms and towns.

Worth While Verses

Sun of the west, good night, good night;
Orb of a splendid day;
Slowly you sink from my eager sight—
Into the far away;
And night comes down and the shadows dare
To creep from the depths of their hidden lair;
Safe till the dawn may they linger there—
Sun of the West—good night.

Sun of the West, good night, good night;
Ages may come and go;
And you swing on in celestial flight
Nor reckon on things below;
But I know naught of my destiny.
Tomorrow my fragile bark may be
Far adrift on a troubled sea—
Sun of the West—good night.

How Is Your Health?

By Uncle Sam, M. D.

Send health questions to Information Editor, U. S. Public Health Service, Washington, D. C. Give name and address and you'll receive a personal reply.

Many people have been revived after being under water for half an hour.

Ten minutes is sometimes given as the limit.

Rescuers have been known to work for hours before success crowned their efforts. Don't give up trying to restore consciousness after a few minutes of feverish effort. At any moment up to two or three hours signs of recovery may appear.

First clear the victim's mouth of any obstruction with the corner of a handkerchief wrapped around the finger.

Lay the body face downward and slightly elevate the lower portions of the body, expel as much water as possible from the stomach and air passages.

The following method is known as the Shaefer or one-man method of restoring breathing.

The patient should be placed in the following position: Face downward, head inclined to one side, so that the nostrils and mouth are exposed, allowing tongue to fall forward toward the front teeth, so as not to obstruct the air passage. Then kneel astride the patient and place the palms of the hands on the victim's lower ribs, with the thumbs nearly touching in the center of the back, the fingers extended well over the sides of the ribs.

Then lean over the patient, throwing your weight on the body and pressing the abdomen to the ground, thus expelling the air from out of the chest.

Next draw the body back sharply, removing the pressure from the ribs, but do not remove the hands. This draws the air into the lungs.

Keep up these two movements alternately, by a steady swaying of your body, time the act by your own breathing, which should be about 15 times to the minute. Heat should be applied to the patient's body as early as possible. This should be in the form of hot water bottles wrapped in cloth to prevent burning.

Stimulants such as hot coffee should be given only after you are assured the victim is able to swallow properly.

Roosevelt's Church Creed

Chicago Tribune

Theodore Roosevelt's church creed was contained in nine pungent paragraphs. We quote a few.

"Yes, I know all the excuses. I know that one can worship the Creator in a grove of trees, or by a running brook, or in a man's house, just as well as in a church. But I also know as a matter of cold fact the average man does not thus worship.

"He may not hear a good sermon at church. He will hear a sermon by a good man who, with his good wife, is engaged all the week in making hard lives a little easier.

"He will listen and take part in reading some beautiful passages from the Bible. And if he is not familiar with the Bible, he has suffered a loss. "He will take part in singing some good hymns.

"He will take part in singing speak to good, quiet neighbors. He will come away feeling a little more charitably toward all the world, even toward those excessively foolish young men who regard church going as a soft performance."

CHAPTER 122

BILLY BEAR GETS HIS FACE SLAPPED

By Harvey Elliott

Billy Bear climbed out of the old walnut tree in Farmer Smith's orchard on the opposite side from Old Mother Pig. What is more, he walked away in the opposite direction. He couldn't think of any business he had with her that afternoon.

Billy strolled over next to the barn-lot and stood looking through the fence. The fellow he was looking for was Old Bossie's little calf. He would just love to hear it sing that song he heard the other time he was there. Billy looked around for the wagon where he hid before, and in which he had his free ride. There it was, but on the opposite side of the barn from where it stood before.

Billy didn't see the little calf, but he did become greatly interested in Farmer Smith's chickens. He watched one old rooster strutting around. All at once Billy saw him flap his wings and stretch his neck as if he were trying to see over the haystack, and then, "Cock-a-doodle-doo!" "Well," said Billy, "wonder what's stuck in his throat! Seems as if everybody around here has got a song of his own."

Then he saw an old Biddy fly out of the chicken house—a squawking and cackling like something terrible had happened. Billy was about to run, but when he saw that nobody else was getting excited about it he decided to stand his ground.

Billy ventured over by the chicken house to investigate a little farther. He was curious to know what had made Old Biddy Hen get so excited. He stuck his nose under an old box which was lying on its side, and began to sniff.

"Ouch!" said Billy, as he jumped back. Something that felt like a helge thorn had stuck him on the nose. "That's funny," he said, rubbing his nose. "What do you reckon is in that box? Can't be very big, anyway."

Then Billy put his head down to look in. Peckity peck! Billy Bear found that though the beast in the box wasn't very big it was very mighty. Billy had looked into a box containing an old setting hen. When she pecked his nose she thought that was warning enough for him to keep out. But when he stuck his whole face down to look into her private apartment she wouldn't stand for it at all. So this time Old Sitting Biddy flew into his face, slapped him with her wings, scratched his eyes with her toenails and pecked him with her bill.

Billy started to run and Old Biddy chased him clear around the chicken house. As he rubbed his smarting face, he said:

"Guess if a fellow doesn't want to get his nose pecked he had better keep it out of other peoples' businesses."
